QUAY RESTS WITH AN EYE ON PATTISON

Chairman at His Beaver Home Resting, but Keeping Posted.

LIKES SPEECHES OF PENNYPACKER

Advices from the Counties Are That the Democrats Are Losing Ground.

ELKIN TO PROVE HIS LOYALTY SATURDAY

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Beaver, Pa., Sept. 25.—Senator Quay is taking a rest at his home in Beaver. For a week the chairman of the Republican state committee will divorce himself from executive political effort. He knows that his absence from state headquarters will not jeopardize in the least the responsibilities which rest upon his shoulders.

The senator finds himself face to face with inducements of a controlling character. His wife and daughters, who have been summering at Lake Placid, in the Adirondacks, will return this morning, and the senator anticipates much pleasure in welcoming them home. There's another consideration which appeals to him. Next Tuesday, September 30, is Col. Quay's birthday.

Two years ago, when making his memorable swing round the circle, Senator Quay made his closing address at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia. At that time he remarked that he expected to retire from politics; that it was his last campaign; but the demands of his party were stronger than Quay, and today he is again in the saddle, more active, more aggressive and in far better health than he was two years ago. He expects to celebrate a goodly number of birthdays, and this one will be a strictly family affair at Beaver.

Keeping His Eye on Pattison.

"This seems more like home than all others," said the senator to The Gazette correspondent as he paced up and down the famous library. "I am always glad to get back here. It's home."

Then the ruling passion got in its work and he fusilladed questions as to political conditions, state and local. The Pattison junket was discussed extensively. Col. Quay has kept very close watch on the Democratic gubernatorial party. He has read all speeches delivered, analyzed them and is convinced that thus far no argument has been offered which would attract Republican votes. His advices from conservative people in the various counties visited by Pattison and Guthrie are that they are losing rather than gaining ground.

Col. Quay will be surprised if the Democrats do not bring their itinerary to a sudden close. Col. Guffey, it is reported, recognizes the futility of further effort, and if the colonel balks the curtain must fall.

Announcement had been made that Col. Quay would preside at the Beaver Falls meeting. This was without authority, as the senator was not consulted. Had he attended the meeting he could not have avoided making an address, and this he does not intend doing. Judge Pennypacker, in his opinion, is ably disposing of all questions at issue, and the senator does not believe reinforcements are needed. The first week of the campaign convinced Chairman Quay that the judge has the ear of the people and that his wires would not be crossed.

Will Confer With Pittsburghers.

The senator will return to Philadelphia early next week. He will have a conference with Pittsburgh friends before going east.

In the local situation Col. Quay finds nothing to arouse apprehension, so far as his state ticket is concerned. That the local divisions will result in a tremendous and unparalleled vote being cast, he is certain, and he is further assured that, no matter which faction wins, the Republican state ticket will be the beneficiary.

Republican enthusiasm will be at floodtide within the next week. Judge Pennypacker, ex-Senator Brown, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Gen. Latta, secretary of internal affairs, spoke to large crowds at Beaver Falls and Sharon. They will be at Greenville tomorrow afternoon and Butler tomorrow night. Saturday night they close the week at Johnstown. There they will be joined by Attorney General John P. Elkin and ex-Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith.

That will be the most important meeting held thus far. It will be the first time Elkin and his successful opponent, Judge Pennypacker, have spoken from the same platform. Aside from the notable quality of the addresses which will be heard, the event will accentuate and emphasize the absolute harmony existing between the Republican leaders. Democratic managers have romanced without limit upon the alleged disaffection of the Elkin faction.

So far as Mr. Elkin is concerned, there is not in this campaign an "Elkin faction." He and his friends, Republicans, now and for all time.

Mr. Elkin will make two speeches next Monday, at Bedford in the afternoon, and at Everett in the evening. He will also speak at Huntingdon Tuesday night, at Williamstown, Dauphin county, Saturday afternoon, and at Harrisburg the same evening.

CUNNINGHAM REFUSES TO QUIT THE CONTEST

Senator Quay Holds Conference With the Beaver Attorney, But Nothing Is Accomplished.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, PA., Sept. 25.—Senator Quay called on James H. Cunningham at his office today and was closeted with him for half an hour. The purpose of the senator's call was to see if the congressional dispute could be adjusted.

Senator Quay and Mr. Cunningham declined to discuss what passed between them in detail, but enough was learned to justify the belief that Cunningham refused to withdraw in favor of Acheson.

What Cunningham might have done had it been suggested that both he and Acheson withdraw and allow some new man to be qualified by nomination papers.

Mrs. Schenley Practically Refuses to Consent to Location of the Carnegie School in Schenley Park.

By CURTIS BROWN, Staff Correspondent.

(Special Cable to The Gazette.)

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Mary E. Schenley today made a statement that practically amounts to a refusal of her consent to locating the Carnegie polytechnic school in Schenley park. She said that she gave the park to the people of Pittsburgh for recreation, and not for education, thus making it very plain that if the park is used as a site for the school, it will be a subversion of the donor's original intentions.

Mrs. Schenley lives in a handsome house in Princess Gate, facing the most fashionable part of Hyde Park. When I called upon her today and asked if she would consent to a portion of Schenley park being taken as a site for the polytechnic institution that Mr. Carnegie proposes to present to Pittsburgh, she said:

"I gave that park for the recreation and not the education of the people. I never heard, until this moment, that Pittsburgh wanted to use the park that I gave 15 years ago for the Carnegie Polytechnic school. I will certainly think a long time before consenting to allow a building to be erected upon that land.

"I love Hyde park so much that I want my beloved old home, Pittsburgh, to enjoy the same kind of pleasure. It was my intimate acquaintance with London parks, indeed, that led me to think of making the present to Pittsburgh.

"I have had some correspondence with Pittsburgh people relative to the sale of a certain piece of land there for the polytechnic school, but that is an entirely different matter. The park I gave is for another purpose."

Mrs. Schenley has been quite ill for some weeks and is able to attend to but little business at present.

The above statement from Mrs. Schenley indicates a disposition to oppose use of any part of Schenley park as a site for the Carnegie Technical schools. The opinion of City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan and others who have closely examined the deeds is that Mrs. Schenley's consent is necessary before the city can use land which she donated and sold to the city for park purposes, though Mr. Bigelow and others think differently.

Many persons called at city hall yesterday and examined the park land deeds on file there. All the deeds are plain. The deed for the 300 acres, after a long preamble stating that Pittsburgh people need "open air recreation," states that the 300 acres are for "park purposes, and for no other purpose whatever." The deed for the 100 acres, which were purchased, states that it shall become a part of the 300 acres, and for an "enlargement of Schenley park."

Park Bond Money Not Available.

City Solicitor Carnahan also took up the suggestion that the $360,000 now remaining in the bond issue for park purposes be used to buy a site for the school. Mr. Carnahan said: "The $360,000 remaining in the park fund provided by the bond issue cannot be used to buy a site for the Carnegie school. This fund was voted by the people to buy land for park purposes, and it cannot be used for anything else. If this money were used to buy an extension to Schenley park, that extension could not be used as a site for the school, as the land would be for park purposes, and could not be diverted to any other use."

This, in the opinion of Mr. Carnahan, exhausts two alternatives, and the only remaining way now to provide a site for the school is to buy one. The city can provide money in two ways to buy a site: Either by voting a bond issue or to put the amount in the appropriation ordinance next February and raise it by direct taxation. The bond issue seems to many people the most favorable, although the question of another bond issue in Pittsburgh for such a purpose is a delicate one, and in the present temper of the taxpayers might be defeated.

Mrs. Schenley's Options.

Mrs. Schenley has optioned two pieces of ground to the city as a site for the school. She offers the 52 acres north of Fifth avenue for $1,400,000, and 32 acres of this piece for $550,000. She stipulates that if the city buys this land it will have to be used for either park or educational purposes. Solicitor Carnahan secured these options. He also wrote the deeds by which the city secured the 419 acres which comprise Schenley park.

With reference to the purchase of a site by the city through the sale of bonds, or the raising of money by direct taxation, Mr. Carnahan told the special committee that it was a question whether the city would even have the right to buy a site for such a purpose. He said that the right of the city to spend money to investigate the feasibility of the ship canal had been sustained by the supreme court, and that is a parallel case. He said he believed the supreme court might sustain the right of the city to buy this site on the plea that it would be for the betterment of the city and to promote the interests of the people. He said he believed the law could not stand in the way, as the city practically did that every year when it appropriated money for the maintenance of the Carnegie institute. He said, however, that courts had ruled differently on the subject, and no one could tell what might be the final judgment.

Mrs. Mary E. Schenley.

Committee Favors Park Site.

The councilmanic committee met yesterday afternoon and adopted a resolution stating it to be the sense of the committee that the park site is the proper one, and this action is to be reported to a joint meeting with the plan and scope committee, and the committee on municipal relations, next Tuesday afternoon. D. F. Crawford, who suggested the park site, fought valiantly to have a clause put in this resolution to the effect that Mrs. Schenley be at once asked to give her consent, but this was voted down. It was explained that the members of the committee all favored asking the consent of Mrs. Schenley, but that all but Mr. Crawford thought it would be better to consult the trustees of the proposed school before taking such important action as that.

When the conference between the councilmanic committee, the plan and scope committee and the municipal relations committee is held next Tuesday afternoon, some action is to be taken to get the consent of Mrs. Schenley. The accompanying statement from the donor of Schenley park shows that she may not give her consent. How this will affect the actions of the committee is not known, although the program will probably be carried out. The matter may now be left to correspondence.

Steps for a Bond Issue.

The first step necessary to a bond issue will be the introduction into councils of an ordinance resolving that the matter of a bond issue for a certain sum be referred to the qualified voters of the city. If this ordinance is introduced at once and passed, it can be submitted to the voters at the time of the state election in November, and the expense will thereby be reduced.

There is already such an ordinance pending in councils to submit to the voters the question of issuing bonds in the sum of $1,219,000 for use in constructing a sand filtration plant. What the fate of these propositions will be cannot now be forecasted, but it seems to be the opinion of the public that a bond issue will be rejected. The South Side will oppose the filtration bond issue.

Several of Mrs. Schenley's friends have been asserting that she would not permit the use of any part of the park as a school site, and The Gazette quoted one of them several days ago to that effect. One of those who was so positive is one of the attorneys who talked to her about the parks at the time she made the donation and sold the 100 acres. It was her special request and demand, at the time, that the deeds be made so binding that for all time the land sold and donated could not be used for any other than public purposes.

GEN. MILLER READY TO CALL FOR ALL GUARDSMEN NEEDED

First Brigade to Be Ordered Out Before Western Pennsylvania Troops Are Mobilized in Strike Region.

RIOTERS KILL ONE MAN AND BEAT MANY OTHERS

GENERAL MILLER'S STATEMENT.

(By Long Distance Telephone to The Gazette from Franklin, Pa.)

At this hour (10 p. m.) there seems to be no need for the calling out of more troops for service in the anthracite mining region, but I am, of course, unable to say what will happen before daylight. I am in almost constant communication with the National guard headquarters at Harrisburg, and we are prepared to act promptly should further serious disturbances occur.

We still have one entire brigade (the First) in the eastern end of the state, including Battery A of artillery and Troops A and D of cavalry, besides several companies of the Fourth regiment, Third brigade, that have not been called into service. If occasion requires I will call upon the eastern troops first and there will be no demands made upon the western guard, or Second brigade, until all the soldiers of the east have first been called into action. I shall not go to the scene of action unless there are further menacing developments.

CHARLES MILLER, Maj. Gen. N. G. P.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 25.—The formal order issued by Gov. Stone placing troops on duty in Lackawanna and Lebanon counties was made public today at the headquarters of the national guard. The order follows:

1—The sheriffs of Lackawanna county and of Lebanon county, respectively, having advised the governor of their inability to preserve the peace, maintain order, secure obedience to law, protect life and property, and secure to the citizens of the commonwealth their rights, privileges and safety under the constitution and the laws, and the governor being satisfied, upon investigation, that tumult, riot and mob violence does exist in those counties to an extent that cannot be controlled by the civil authorities, the major general commanding the division, national guard of Pennsylvania, will make such disposition of the troops now on duty or place such additional troops on duty, as may, in his judgment, be necessary to properly assist the sheriff of Lackawanna county and the sheriff of Lebanon county in restoring and maintaining peace and order.

2—The major general commanding the division will report fully to these headquarters action taken in compliance with this general order. By order of

WM. A. STONE,
Governor and Commander in Chief.

Discusses Martial Law.

Gov. Stone was asked today if he would declare martial law in the coal regions. He said:

"Without discussing the power of the governor to declare martial law, it will be wholly unnecessary to resort to that remedy. The fifty-first section of the act of assembly, approved April 28, 1866, provides that 'When a tumult, riot or mob shall exist, the commander-in-chief shall call upon the national guard and he may at his discretion order any number of men of the enrolled militia to be drafted and may detail or commission officers to organize the forces.'

"The national guard have been sent into the coal regions to suppress tumults, riots and mobs where the civil authorities are unable to suppress them. They will not interfere with the civil authorities, but are there to aid and assist them in preserving order.

"There is now a surplus in the treasury and the state is prepared to maintain a large army in the field for an indefinite time. I have no hesitation in expressing my disapproval of tumults, riots and mobs and all acts of violence and my determination to suppress them and preserve order regardless of consequences and regardless of cost."

Non-Union Man Clubbed to Death.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 25.—James Winston, aged 48, was killed, and his son-in-law, S. J. Lewis, severely injured by a gang of Hungarian strikers, who waylaid them on their way to work at Grassy Island colliery of the Delaware and Hudson Company today. The affair took place almost within sight of the camp of the Thirteenth regiment at Olyphant. Lewis got away, but Winston had his skull crushed with a club and fell unconscious. While he lay prostrate and dying the crowd jumped on him, kicked him in the face and beat him with clubs. After dancing about their victim, clapping their hands and singing the crowd left him. Winston was carried home by William Doyle, a non-union man, and Mrs. Doyle, who witnessed the murder. Six men and a woman, who were in the crowd, were arrested and held in $1,000 bail each as witnesses.

Mrs. George Marshall, colored, wife of the proprietor of a hotel at Jessup, armed with a shotgun, safely escorted a non-union man through a crowd of 100 strikers, from the hotel to the Sterrick creek colliery stockade, late last night. When the crowd began to avenge itself by bombarding the hotel, Mrs. Marshall fired on the nearest group and peppered a dozen men with birdshot. This scattered the mob.

Soldiers Load Their Guns.

This evening a crowd of strikers threw stones at non-union men, who were being escorted home from work in Forest City. The soldiers loaded their guns and the commander said he would give the word to fire if another stone was thrown. The crowd melted away. One man, who held back, was arrested.

WILKESBARRE, Sept. 25.—Gen. Gobin and the Eighth regiment arrived at the mining town of Duryea late this afternoon. The town is almost on the dividing line between Luzerne and Lackawanna counties and ever since the strike began has been the scene of many acts of violence. The military authorities thought it would be advantageous to have a large contingent of soldiers at this point, as they can be moved into Lackawanna or Luzerne county at short notice.

After issuing some orders Gen. Gobin came to Wilkesbarre tonight. He will return to Shenandoah tomorrow.

The Ninth regiment did its first guard duty today. Two battalions made a tour of the upper and lower end of the county. One battalion, in command of Lieut.-Col. McKee, went to Nanticoke. Plymouth and Wanamie, where they dispersed large crowds assembled in the vicinity of the mines. Sheriff Jacobs accompanied the soldiers, and at Nanticoke placed under arrest John Zuchho, who was heavily armed.

Burgess Williams has asked Sheriff Jacobs for special officers to patrol the streets of the town of Nanticoke. He says he can no longer control the strikers and their sympathizers, who stone the houses of non-union men. A detail of soldiers may be sent to Nanticoke.

David Aknew, coal and iron policeman, was assaulted by strikers at Brookside in the northern part of the city this afternoon and left on the road for dead. He was removed to the hospital in a critical condition.

LEBANON, PA., Sept. 25.—There was some stray firing in the vicinity of the American Iron and Steel Company's plant tonight, but no one was injured. Pickets are stationed about the big plant.

The colored puddlers are still at work, but some are so badly scared that they declare they will leave town if the soldiers are withdrawn. They live in temporary buildings inside a stockade on the company's property and nearly all are armed with either revolvers or shotguns.

ALTOONA, PA., Sept. 25.—The Fifth regiment, N. G. P., has been ordered to be ready to respond promptly in case more troops are needed in the anthracite coal regions. The company commanders have all been notified and have their men well in hand.

CONTROL IS COMPLETE.

Northern Securities Company Holds Practically All Stock of Great Northern Railway Co.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The hearing in the action of the United States to prevent the Northern Securities Company from holding the stock of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads was resumed today before the special examiner appointed by the Minnesota federal court.

Col. W. P. Clough, general counsel and director for the Northern Securities Company, was the first witness. Col. Clough said that of the 1,250,000 shares of $100 each of the Great Northern railway the Northern Securities Company owns 1,238,804.

"We were carrying a considerable quantity of Northern Pacific in the same way," Col. Clough said, "and we thought it desirable to carry some proportion of Great Northern in the same manner."

"How much Northern Pacific were you carrying?"

"About twenty odd millions. Later more was acquired."

Further hearing was postponed until October 20 at St. Paul.

AGREES WITH PRESIDENT.

Speaker Henderson Says He Was Never Out of Harmony With the Chief Executive.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 25.—Speaker Henderson has broken his silence.

"I do not believe," he said, "that my action will injure the Republican party, but on the contrary, will help its success.

"I cannot entertain a doubt that the Republican party will carry the next house, and I feel sure that nothing to my declination will prevent that result. The Republican party has never so thoroughly deserved the approval of the country. The country at large does not understand the Iowa situation.

"It has been reported that I was not in harmony with President Roosevelt on the question of Cuban reciprocity. I want to say that there never was a moment from even before the time the president sent in his message that he and I did not work shoulder to shoulder for what we believed best for this country, best for Cuba and best for the Republican party."

WILL CONTEST BEGINS.

Harry Stratton Declares His Father Made One After the One Cutting Him Off.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COL., Sept. 25.—The suit of I. Harry Stratton to break the will of his father, W. S. Stratton, was begun here today. The son asks the court to apoint an administrator or referee to handle the estate and preserve it intact pending the litigation.

The purport of the suit is that the will dated August 5, 1901, was not the father's rightful will, and that a second instrument is in existence, but has not made its appearance.

It is stated by the lawyers who performed Mr. Stratton's business during his last illness, that he attempted to change the will of 1901, but was unable to, do so through extreme weakness.

INSANITY THE DEFENSE.

Young's Lawyer May Permit Him to Testify to Show Mental Disorder.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Insanity will be the plea made by William F. S. Hart, counsel for Hooper Young. It has not yet been decided by Mr. Hart whether Young will be permitted to take the stand in his own behalf, but it is probable that the man accused of the murder of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer will insist upon telling his story.

His counsel thinks that by his manner and by the story which he will tell, Young will impress any average jury he is not well balanced mentally.

England Would Honor Roosevelt.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Daily Chronicle this morning gives currency to a rumor that a movement is on foot to make President Roosevelt a colonel in a British line regiment. The paper believes that the matter of precedent for such action is being inquired into.

New York Buys Welsh Coal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Four thousand tons of Welsh coal, chiefly large size anthracite, reached here today. None was offered for sale, as all had been contracted for.

MANY HUNDREDS SWALLOWED UP BY EARTHQUAKE

Shocks Continued Twelve Days in Russian Turkestan.

AN ENTIRE TOWN IS OBLITERATED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Berlin, Sept. 25.—A dispatch received here from Tashkent, capital of Russian Turkestan, reports a terrible earthquake August 22, the shocks continuing until September 3. One hundred persons were killed at Kashgar, in Eastern Turkestan, 400 in the village of Astyn, 20 at Jangi, while the town of Akeukaitche was completely destroyed.

Kashgar, capital of the province of Sinkiang, is situated at the confluence of roads leading to China, India and the Russian empire, and is of considerable importance. It has a population of 50,000.

The Gazetteers mention the town of Ak-Su, in Eastern Turkestan, and say it is a center of trade, the foreign traders, about 100 in number, being mostly Russian subjects. The population of the circle about Ak-Su is given at 180,000. There are 4,000 houses in the town itself.

ALLAHABAD, INDIA, Sept. 25.—A dispatch to the Pioneer from Kashgar, Eastern Turkestan, says that only a dozen people were killed there, but that the disturbances wrecked many villages in the northern part of the province, the total of persons killed being 1,000. There were no premonitory signs, but a pronounced rise in temperature followed the principal shock. The temperature continued to rise during the subsequent days, which were attended by a repetition of slight quakes. No Europeans lost their lives.

River Improvement Urged.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25.—The house today adopted a resolution calling upon Ohio congressmen to bestir themselves in the matter of damming and locking the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and to fall in line with the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati mass meetings.

TOWER IS PROMOTED TO BERLIN EMBASSY

Diplomatic Change Will Involve Shifting About of Our Envoys Abroad.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—The state department today confirmed the Berlin report that Charlemagne Tower, now ambassador to Russia, had been selected by President Roosevelt to succeed Mr. White as ambassador to Germany. The foreign office in Berlin has been notified of the proposed change.

Mr. Tower's acceptance of the German mission will create a vacancy in the ambassadorship to Russia, which is held now by him. It is regarded as quite likely that he will in turn be succeeded by Bellamy Storer, present minister to Spain. It is intimated further that the vacancy in the Spanish mission may be filled by the appointment of Henry White, present secretary of embassy in Great Britain.

The appointment of Mr. Tower had been expected here for several weeks. As he was passing through Berlin six weeks ago he gave a hint to one of two of his friends that he might be transferred.

The retiring ambassador is not likely to present his letters of recall until about the middle of November.

SYSTEM ALL WRONG.

Ex-Comptroller Eckels Talks to Pennsylvania Bankers About the Treasury Department.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 25.—The United States treasury system came in for a severe criticism today at the hands of Former Comptroller of the Currency James Nickels before the Pennsylvania Bankers' association.

"The glaring inadequacy of the treasury department as at present working under the operation of law for accepting results was never more strongly evidenced than today," he said.

These officers were elected: James McAllister, Philadelphia, president; David McCabe Lloyd, Pittsburgh, vice president; L. L. Lindermuth, Clearfield, treasurer.

The following were elected delegates to the national bankers' convention: W. W. Ramsey, Pittsburgh, and J. Wagner, Jr., delegates-at-large; L. L. Rue, Philadelphia; I. W. Spanz, Reading, W. H. Peck, Scranton; J. G. Reading, Williamsport.

GEN. MILLER CANNOT RETAIN HIS OLD HOME

Blames Meddlesome People for Driving Him from Franklin.

ANSWERS APPEAL FROM TOWNSMEN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Franklin, Pa., Sept. 25.—A committee of 15 citizens presented to Gen. Charles Miller today the resolutions adopted at the public meeting Monday evening and also the petitions containing the signatures of over 2,000 citizens urging him to reconsider his determination to remove to Meadville.

Gen. John A. Wiley made the presentation speech and Gen. Miller responded with much feeling. He said in part:

"I cannot reconsider my intention to leave the city. Because of my inability to do so, and in order that you may fully comprehend my situation at this time, I will simply say to you that the interference and meddling of a few people in Franklin in the lawful control of my family is not the cause of my determination to leave the city, but it is because of what these people have accomplished—the breaking up of my home.

"I instructed my attorneys to secure for me a house in Franklin. I requested them to either purchase or rent the one I built on the hill and presented to Mrs. Miller years ago. By reason of adverse advice of some people I have been unable to secure this home for my family, where I could rear my children in the city I love so well. Having been refused the purchase or rental of this home, what could I do but go elsewhere and seek a habitation?

"I was threatened, together with those in my own house, with arrest and with ejectment from the house which I built. I was warned week after week that I would be put out. Recognizing the fact that it was not my house, what could I do but voluntarily leave.

Gen. Miller will continue to hold his interest in the many business and philanthropic enterprises with which he is connected in this city and will spend the greater portion of his time here.

BIG FORTUNE DEPENDS ON LITTLE CARDBOARD

Bennett's Other Heirs May Use Witness Who Testified for Miss Biggar.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Is Laura Biggar, former actress, the widow of the Pittsburgh millionaire, Henry M. Bennett, and the mother of his posthumous son? Evidence which, it is expected, will be presented in Long Branch tomorrow may go far toward a solution of this question.

If Laura Biggar can convince the court of the truth of her claims she will probably become practically the sole heir to his fortune of about $1,250,000.

The unlangling of all these snarls depends upon the validity of a certain gilded piece of cardboard, which apparently bears suspicious scratches and erasing erasures, but which purports to certify that on January 2, 1858, Henry M. Bennett and Laura Biggar were joined in wedlock in a stuffy little room in Hoboken by one Samuel Stanton, then a justice of the peace, a member of the Health board of that city, and a man of some political and legal pretensions.

Mr. Stanton is no longer a justice of the peace, his term having expired last May. He was the principal witness examined in Long Branch last Friday. He was called as the most important witness by the lawyers who are defending Laura Biggar's claim. He identified the wedding certificate as one filled out by him and swore that he had duly performed the marriage ceremony at the time and place named.

Detectives of a private New York agency who have been busy in Hoboken for several weeks have been uncommonly busy since last Friday. The men who are fighting the Biggar claim profess to have turned up new and startling evidence and one odd result of their alleged discoveries is that they profess to be seeking diligently for Mr. Stanton, in order to insure his presence at the hearing tomorrow where they hope to put upon the stand as their own witness the man who a week ago was regarded as the mainstay of their enemy's case.

EMPEROR'S SON IN OHIO.

Has No Word of the Death of His Father, the Korean Ruler.

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 25.—Prince Euiwha, or Prince Ye, as he is known publicly, who is attending Ohio Wesleyan university from Korea, was shown a dispatch from Seoul, Korea, which said the emperor, his father, is reported dead. Prince Euiwha read the news and displayed no very great excitement over the matter. He said that he had received no news of his father's death whatever.

The young student said in the event of his father's death his elder brother would ascend the throne.

OLD SOLDIERS HELD MEETING AT TARENTUM

Veterans of the Civil War Had Their Twenty-Fourth Reunion

THEY WERE PRISONERS AT ANDERSONVILLE.

Remnants of 101st and 103rd Regiments, Pennsylvania Volunteers, Gather Again and Relate Experiences of War.

For the twenty-fourth time since the days back in '64, when they endured the horrors of Andersonville prison, the veterans of the One Hundred and First and One Hundred and Third regiments, Pennsylvania Volunteers, bearing the ineradicable scars of 26 fierce engagements of the civil war, met in reunion at Tarentum yesterday. These old men who fought shoulder to shoulder through the four years of conflict and appalling carnage, and who went through the terrible sufferings attendant upon the life in the rebel prison, are growing sadly fewer, year by year, and those remaining today are bound together by ties that are cemented by the blood their comrades shed in battle to save the union.

Of the 2,100 gallant men who answered the country's summons in the early days of 1861 only 48—16 from the 101st and 32 from the 103d, were present yesterday. The women, "bless 'em," as one old veteran said, made the affair the success it was. Circle No. 40, Ladies of the G. A. R., had the arrangements for the entertainment of the veterans in charge. These arrangements were carried out under the auspices of the following committee, the officers of the circle: Mrs. Martha Finney, president; Mrs. Emma Wesley, first vice president; Mrs. Margie McCall, second vice president; Mrs. Margie A. Kler, secretary; Mrs. M. J. Maconaha, treasurer; Mrs. Mollie Leslie, chaplain; Mrs. Leezer, conductress; Mrs. Mos Means, guard.

JAMES SHEAFER.
Colonel of the One Hundred and First Pennsylvania Volunteers.

Experiences Told at the Camp Fire.

These women, assisted by pretty girls who delighted their venerable guests, entertained the veterans royally. Every want was anticipated and provided for in advance. Dinner for 500 was provided, but the expected number did not make their appearance on account of the miserable weather.

The camp fire, which is a time-honored institution at these reunions, was held last night at the Y. M. C. A. hall. Speakers chosen at random from among the comrades related their experiences. All of them told of the almost unendurable conditions existing at Andersonville, in which the two regiments, captured at Plymouth in a body, spent 11 dark, gloomy months in the years 1864-65.

The regiments held their reunions jointly because they were recruited at the same time, and some of the boys in the one had brothers and life-long comrades in the other. They were organized in the early part of 1861, fought side by side in the front ranks of the charging lines on the bloody fields of the Seven Days' battles when Lee, straining every nerve, succeeded in saving the Confederate capital from capture.

Other Hard Fights They Were In.

In the bloody fights at Fair Oaks and Williamsburg they bore a prominent part, and at Harrison's Landing they were among the Union troops which bore the brunt of Albert Sidney Johnston's fierce fighting energy, and were forced to retreat, doggedly, step by step, before the wonderful offensive tactics of the Confederate general who fell that day.

The speakers at the campfire were Comrade R. S. P. McCall, who, in happy and appropriate phrase, welcomed the veterans to Tarentum. Comrades J. N. Reed and J. W. Birchfield confined themselves to remarks relating to the experiences of both regiments and the bearing the stirring events in which they participated had on the prosperity of today. Comrade J. W. McKee complimented "The Other Half," meaning the ladies, and he was kissed the Blarney stone or a good imitation of it, according to the popular verdict, that is, the verdict of "the other half."

The war-time navy was represented on the speakers' stand by Daniel Ashworth of Pittsburgh, who possesses a remarkably developed dramatic insect, and his recitation of a poem descriptive of the destruction of the rebel steamer Alabama was received with rousing cheers. Comrade J. N. Reed, one of those who spent a year in the prison at Andersonville, gave a graphic description of the scenes in that charnal house as he witnessed them.

Business End of Reunion.

Some of the speakers deplored the unhappy decree of fate which directed their incarceration in that southern prison instead of enrolling their names among those on the rolls of honor in the historic halls of fame created by Antietam, Gettysburg and the final crash on the memorable day at Appomattox, but Grant, in his address to prisoners, stated that they did better service as they were, facing death, day by day, from starvation and disease, and the bullets from the sentry's guns on the dead lines of the prison camp without means of defense. In the indomitable spirit they displayed, and their steadfast refusal of release upon dishonorable conditions, they showed a loyalty that was indeed true blue.

Freeport was chosen as the place for the next reunion, and at the business meeting the following officers to serve the ensuing year were chosen: President, Samuel Creesman of Wilkinsburg; first vice president, John A. Reed of Pittsburgh; second vice president, B. H. Scott of Pittsburgh; recording secretary, H. M. Johnston of Wilkinsburg; corresponding secretary, Thomas J. McKee of Allegheny; treasurer, S. M. Evans of Avalon; executive committee, Col. James Sheafer of Pittsburgh, Capt. Charles W. May of Beaver Falls, T. R. Boss of Pittsburgh, Thomas Hays and John M. Smith, both of Pittsburgh.

GUTHRIE CHALLENGED TO PRODUCE PROOF

Judge Pennypacker Calls Democratic Candidates to Book for Reckless Charges.

BY CHESTER D. POTTER.
Staff Correspondent.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 25.—Judge Pennypacker started his second week of campaigning today by meeting the voters of Beaver county this afternoon and of Mercer county tonight. Large and enthusiastic crowds greeted him at Beaver Falls and Sharon and vigorously applauded his criticism of the speeches of his opponent, ex-Gov. Pattison, and of the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, George W. Guthrie. Mr. Pennypacker referred to the statement that Mr. Guthrie had advocated the passage of the Pittsburgh ripper bill, and at Sharon criticised ex-Gov. Pattison's speeches regarding the rapid transit legislation.

With waving flags and cheers for the candidates, and with additional hurrahs for Senator Quay, the people of Beaver Falls this afternoon extended such an enthusiastic welcome to the candidates that if there had been any doubt of the stanch loyalty of Beaver county to the Republican party and its principles, it was dispelled in the most emphatic manner.

When the gubernatorial party, headed by Judge Pennypacker and the candidate for lieutenant governor, William M. Brown, arrived there this afternoon the town had put on a gala appearance.

Contrast to the Pattison Frost.

A large crowd of citizens, headed by the Lincoln club of New Brighton, had gathered at the station, and the streets were lined with cheering crowds as the party was driven to the Sixth Avenue theater, where a reception and meeting were held under the auspices of the county committee, of which Hartford P. Brown is chairman, and a reception committee, consisting of William S. Reeder, William Elges and J. C. Martin.

The reception was a remarkable demonstration, considering the inclemency of the weather, and an extreme contrast to the frost which ex-Gov. Pattison and his party met there yesterday. This contrast was accentuated by the fact that, owing to the heavy rain, the program was unexpectedly changed this morning and a great crowd had gone to the county fair grounds expecting to meet Judge Pennypacker there, where he had been originally scheduled to speak. They were not denied that pleasure, however, for after the judge had spoken at the large meeting in the theater he was driven to the fair ground, where he was given an informal but warm reception by the large gathering.

Both at the meeting and at the fair grounds the judge made a strong impression, and every allusion to the fact that he will be Pennsylvania's next governor was greeted with cheers and other hearty demonstrations of approval.

Pennypacker Challenges Proof.

At the meeting, which was presided over by County Chairman Brown, who served notice that Beaver county will give its old-time Republican majority, the judge won his audience at once. In plain language he demanded from candidates Pattison and Guthrie proofs of their general charges that Republican legislatures and officials have been corrupt, and said that unsupported general accusations could not be strengthened by additional general charges.

After telling how his travels over the state had brought him into agreeable contact with a prosperous and happy people, and how the clouds of smoke from the busy industrial establishments could be compared to the biblical pillar of smoke by day and fire by night, leading a favored people through a land of prosperity as well as promise, he went on to show how the Democratic party campaigners are trying to escape from a discussion of the important matters affecting the welfare of the community.

"They say," said he, "that the public officials are a set of public thieves; that legislators are corrupt, and that this great commonwealth is a disgraced state. We say about our commonwealth, that, like all other great concerns, its affairs are not perfect; but we do say that there is no other commonwealth whose affairs are better managed than are those of this state. Its officers are selected by you, and they are fairly representative of the virtue and intelligence that exists among yours-lives."

Reckless Democratic Charges.

Continuing, the judge said: "It is easy to make general accusations, but I want to see them specified, so that they can be answered. In opening the Democratic campaign, the distinguished gentleman who is my opponent charged that all members of the legislature, even the very best, entered into corrupt deals to secure appropriations."

The judge then related how he had met that statement at Erie, and showed how it not only applied to legislators but to hundreds of people interested in the charities for whom the appropriations were passed. He also related how he had shown the falsity of the charges, and the fact that there was no record of Gov. Pattison vetoing such bills, nor of his attorney generals ever taking legal action to recover such illegal appropriations.

The judge then directed attention to recent statements by Candidate Guthrie.

"What I said at Erie," said the judge, "has been replied to by the candidate for lieutenant governor, and not by the distinguished candidate who is perhaps better fitted to know more about it. How did he meet it? He said that at the last election of a United States senator the position was bought with money, and that in the last Republican convention held for the nomination for governor, the nomination was secured by the use of money. In other words, he attempts to support one general accusation, not by producing evidence, but by making other general accusations.

Experience as Judge Helps Him.

"I have been trying cases too long to be carried away by a device of that sort. I know better than that. I call them back to the original statement, and I want a definite answer to it. If it be true that all the members of the legislature went into corrupt deals to secure appropriations, they must be thousands of persons in the state who were also in the deals. Let them give some direct evidence that this is true, or that the distinguished gentleman has been misled into making false statements.

"I am reliably informed, but about it I know nothing personally, that this gentleman who is a candidate for lieutenant-governor was present at the last legislature, insisting on the adoption of ripper legislation in Pittsburgh, and that up to the last moment he was cognizant of that legislation; and I now ask him to answer whether or not that is correct. I am also informed that a few years ago, when he was a candidate for mayor of Pittsburgh and was defeated by a fair majority, then accusations were made by him that that majority had been secured by fraud. When that accusation was made by him the ballot boxes were opened, and the only evidence of fraud produced was that a single illegal vote had been cast, and that illegal vote was for the distinguished gentleman himself.

Invited a Reply from Guthrie.

"Now, in all this I may be mistaken. I do not want to exceed the truth. I am only speaking from information which I believe to be reliable, but I do want him to make answer to it, whether or not it is true."

Speeches were made also by Candidate Brown and Gen. James W. Latta. The meeting closed with three cheers for Pennypacker and the whole ticket, and the big audience, which contained the leading citizens of the county, went home greatly pleased with the candidate for governor.

The gubernatorial party was an hour late getting here tonight, but a big crowd, which had been patiently waiting, gave the party a rousing reception when County Chairman Campbell and a big delegation of leading citizens met them at the station. Crowds lined the streets as the procession moved up to the opera house, where a great audience repeated the cheers which had been given by the street crowds.

Lawyer A. W. Williams was chairman of the meeting, and there was a long list of vice presidents. In prefacing his remarks, Judge Pennypacker said:

"The distinguished gentleman who leads the opposition ticket, in the presentation of arguments which he thinks should be produced, pays no attention whatever to the broad national principles which must affect your interests.

The Vital Issues Ignored.

"He has nothing to say as to whether, in the event of the success of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, and therefore of the eventual success of the Democratic party in the nation, he would favor a free issue of silver, a principle of which he was an earnest advocate not long ago. He neglects entirely to tell you whether or not he would be in favor of the United States government surrendering our possessions we have acquired in the far east, following the example of Mr. Cleveland, who hastened to surrender our possessions and hauled down our flag in the Sandwich islands. He does not tell us whether or not the tariff, under the protective care of which has grown up the population of your beautiful town, should be changed. But he confines himself to a single, narrow issue, and that issue consists solely of denunciation of the people of the state he proposes to govern, its legislative bodies, both state and municipal, its public officials and those who have so prosperously conducted its affairs.

"I propose to discuss briefly one of the questions he has recently broached. He states that at the last session of the legislature that body granted the franchise for the construction of rapid transit railways in Philadelphia; that John Wanamaker offered for that franchise the sum of $2,500,000; that his application was refused, and that the franchises were granted to some 10 or 12 other persons, and that they have since sold their rights for the sum of $6,000,000.

"He contends that this sum should have been secured by the state, and he argues to you that if it had been so secured the taxes might have been lightened and higher amounts paid in behalf of schools and charities.

"Now, a franchise is a grant of power made by a sovereign state to do some particular thing which in the judgment of the legislative body conduces to the welfare of the state. It is an exercise of legislative power. The state is not like a peddler who carries his wares on his back and sells them in the highest market. The state does not grant legislation like a grocer who keeps a store on the corner and sells to whomsoever may want to buy.

"The offer of Mr. Wanamaker, made, no doubt, in the hope that it might be accepted, was the cute proposition of the shrewd, successful merchant, who thinks that with a full pocketbook he may secure almost anything which exists.

"But what shall we say of the commendation of a man who has been twice governor of the state of Pennsylvania, and who seeks again to fill that high office? When has it ever been suggested before that a franchise should be sold for what it would bring? I venture the suggestion that never before in the history of Pennsylvania or any other of the commonwealths that comprise the American nation, has it been suggested by a candidate for such a high office as governor, that legislation should be treated as a commodity."

Judge Pennypacker's remarks were loudly applauded, as were those of Gen. Latta and Candidate William M. Brown, the latter of whom charged the Democrats with wearing a mask of false pretense in claiming for themselves all the integrity and virtue of the nation.

The candidates will speak at Greenville tomorrow afternoon and at Butler in the evening.

TWO HOUSES CRUSHED.

Bad Freight Wreck on the Ft. Wayne Road Had Peculiar Features About It.

A freight wreck on the main line of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad at New Brighton yesterday morning caused the blockading of the tracks for over eight hours. Two new engines were smashed and two houses in Fifth avenue, New Brighton, were almost demolished by an engine and its tender running through them. Engineer Edward Sullivan's shoulder was sprained and Engineer Cyrus Curtis dislocated his shoulder by jumping.

The accident occurred at 4:30 a. m., near Kenwood station at the north end of New Brighton. A heavy freight train made up of pressed steel cars loaded with coal was coming out of the Pittsburgh, Youngstown & Ashtabula branch to the main line, on which it had been given the right of way. At the same time a main line freight, also made up of heavy steel cars, was running in the same direction at great speed. The engine drawing the main line freight had given trouble all the way through Beaver Falls and when the engineer saw the red light he was unable to work the brakes and side-wiped the train coming out of the branch.

The houses wrecked were occupied by Mrs. Eva Daniels and Bert Elrick and their families. One of the big engines rolled into the Daniels house and after carrying away a portion of the building turned over on its back in the yard. The other engine smashed through the front room of the Elrick house, leaving the tender at the foot of the bed in which Mr. and Mrs. Elrick were sleeping in the middle room.

CHICAGO BRIDE IS LOST IN THIS CITY

JOHN W. HART INVOKES AID OF THE POLICE.

When He Woke Up at the Hotel Henry Yesterday He Missed the Partner of His Joys.

A bride of two days is lost in Pittsburgh. Mrs. John W. Hart of Chicago, who registered at the Hotel Henry on Wednesday night with her husband, mysteriously disappeared from the hotel yesterday morning and has not been seen since. Detectives are trying to find her, but last night they had not succeeded in getting any clue.

Yesterday afternoon her husband appeared at the Central police station and asked Superintendent McAleese to aid him in locating his young bride. Special officers were detailed to make a search for the woman in Pittsburgh.

Hart and his bride were married on Tuesday afternoon in Chicago, he says they started east on a wedding tour, and arrived in this city Wednesday evening. When the young and happy groom awakened yesterday morning his bride was missing. She had told him that she was going to get up early, as she wanted to do some shopping. He thought she was making the rounds of the department stores when he saw she was not in the room yesterday morning. Then he went to sleep again and awoke about noon. He waited for an hour, thinking that his wife would return, but she failed to appear. Then he started to look for her.

Last night hospitals, police stations and morgue were visited by the frantic husband, but he found no traces of his wife. The woman is 25 years old, and is said to be exceedingly pretty. She has dark hair, weighs 120 pounds and is about 5 feet 4 inches in height. She is stylishly dressed, wearing a dark blue tailor-made suit with a white and blue trimmed hat.

The husband says that she has no friends in this city and he is at a loss to know where she is. Hart is a broker, well known in Chicago.

COKE PRODUCTION MAINTAINS RECORD

Car Famine and Heavy Demand Cause Highest Prices in History of the Trade.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 25.—The Courier will say tomorrow:

Coke production in the Connellsville region maintains its record breaking pace, while the famine in the silvery fuel is no nearer abated than it was a month ago. Every week seems to accentuate the demand for coke. At no time in the history of the trade were prices so high. In the west as high as $14 a ton has been paid for small lots of coke. Of course no foundryman could afford to pay that figure for any great supply of coke, but in the instances where it was paid it was an absolute necessity to have that fuel.

Agents for furnaces and steel companies are circulating all over the region, but with little success in buying coke. The small independent operators are reaping a fine harvest in their cash coke trade. The big interests in the region get the first chance at cars and the little fellows have to be content with what is left.

The detailed report of the shipments and output of the region for the week ending September 20, shows a total of 21,722 ovens, of which 21,148 were active. The estimated tonnage was 256,650 tons, which is only a difference of one ton from the production of the week of September 13.

Weather—Fair. Friday, September 26, 1902.

Five Hundred Silk Umbrellas, worth from $2.25 up to $5 each, to-day in Special Offering at $1.60 Each

Put emphasis on the word silk, please, then think of the equinox weather we are to have, and come and realize something great for $1.60.

Some are Black Taffeta Umbrellas, with great variety of sterling silver trimmed handles; also pearl and Dresden handles.

Others are colored—all silk taffeta. Variety colors. Best natural sticks.

Men's Overcoats, $10 to $60.

Feels as though there may be a change in the weather—so a little talk on Overcoats.

There are some stores 'round us that sell as good Overcoats as we do, but they charge more for them. That is not good business.

We prefer to have men, who buy of us, come again, and yet again.

Our Overcoats are sold as low as it is possible to sell such good coats for. If the coats were made to special measure they would cost any man buying that way double the money we ask.

So the question naturally pops up here "Why pay more?"

We can give men as perfect fit as it is possible for an overcoat to fit; we can give them any cloth they like; any length coat they prefer; any style they admire. And what more could be asked?

The workmanship? Just as good as any tailor can give you were he to do all the work by hand, as in the old times. And there isn't a tailor in the land that does that now.

Women's Raincoats.

What do you say to one for $10?

It will be a dapper half-fitting-back coat with fly-fronts finished with lap seams. The yoke and the seams are lined with satin. The sleeves are very wide and have turn-back cuffs. Tan and gray mixed cloths.

More elaborate Raincoats in better grades of cloths, all the prominent colors, the very best styles of this season, $12.50, $15, $16.50, $18 and up to $28.

The time to select furs is before the rush begins. Our collection is ready.

Women's Autumn Dresses.

Let's discuss Walking Suits first. There is more variety in this style, in our Suit Department, than we ever before attempted to carry. The increased business made it incumbent upon us to have the largest assortment in the city, for, we are recognized as the store leading in this line.

Take two numbers as indexing the collection:

$18. A Norfolk Walking Suit in snow-flake material. The jacket is silk lined. The skirt is box pleated. Such womanish colors as green, black and navy.

$25. Another style of Walking Suit—made of checked English Suiting. Blouse jacket lined with silk; velvet collar and belt; a 7-gore skirt with slot seams. The mixed colors are gray and black and green and black.

Now, of fine Dress Suits, but we shall not tell you of the finest. You will find them here if your mind runs that way—the finest made. Only mention of two medium priced suits.

$25. A dress suit of gray mixtures—very handsome. Pleated blouse which is silk lined. A carefully cut skirt with a flare that has seven gores. Lined with a substantial grade of percaline.

$40. Either a navy blue or black dress suit of Cheviot, and the cheviot of an extra quality. Fancy pleated blouse, and blouse, collar and cuffs finished with piping of velvet. The skirt is pleated and made over full droplining of silk.

The time to select furs is before the rush begins. Our collection is ready.

Montagnac Jackets, $15.

Cloths with rough faces are to be the thing this season—in jackets as well as dresses.

Montagnac is one of the most pliable of rough-faced cloths, and these jackets of montagnac are fetching, as the saying goes.

Blouse style with postillion back and double-breasted front, fastened with large metal buttons. The jacket has velvet collar, belt and bell shaped sleeves trimmed with bands of velvet.

The most stylish black blouse we have had for a long while.

For $16.50 we have a very new and sightly blouse in same style, finished with stitching.

For $12.50, black cheviot Box Coats—27 inches. Stitched inverted pleats down back, fly front, velvet collar, new full sleeves, the revers faced with black peau de soie.

How louldy misfit jackets cry out against the store that sells them. The tremendous stock of jackets that we have for this Autumn is an assurance 'gainst any semblance of misfit.

The time to select furs is before the rush begins. Our collection is ready.

French Velour Table Covers.

Just opened through courtesy Pittsburg Custom House a large importation of French Velour Table Covers—a high grade and rich and elegant colorings.

There are both plain centers and all-over patterns.

1½ by 1½ yards in size, $6 each.
2 by 2 yards in size, $10 each.
2 by 2½ yards in size, $15 each.
2 by 3 yards in size, $18 each.

We also imported a lot of high class Block Print Austrian Table Covers that are washable—1½ by 1½ yards—$2.50 each.

Men's Raincoats.

The sun crossed the line last Tuesday and we can look out for all sorts of freakish weather.

The Raincoat is the most effective dual garment ever contrived—a natty overcoat, a raincoat that is most practical.

In our Men's Furnishing Department, street floor of the annex, we show full lines of the new Raincoats in such cloths as cheviots, worsteds and coverts.

They are a sightly garment and rain has no more effect on the cloth than it has on rubber.

The prices range from $18 to $30.

PENN AND FIFTH.

CITIZENS HEARD SOUND GOSPEL IN ALLEGHENY

Great Mass Meeting Presided Over by the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay.

GEORGE SHIRAS III. SPOKE TO THE POINT

Controller Larkin Gave More Figures to Confuse the Machine—Shiras Told What the Ring Is and How It Works.

The keynote of the Citizens campaign was struck last night in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, by a man who never before presided over a political meeting, the Rev. Dr. Henry D. Lindsay, pastor of the North Presbyterian church. Dr. Lindsay placed his finger on the very difficulty that encounters all movements for reform, the apathy of the good citizen, and in a few words stirred the audience to enthusiasm. Dr. Lindsay had first declined to preside, and the reason he gave for reconsidering his declination seemed to be taken to heart by the well-dressed audience.

Fired by the success of the meeting held last week in Old City hall the Citizens party leaders expected a big meeting in Allegheny, although hundreds of Alleghenians had attended that meeting. Carnegie hall last night was crowded to its full capacity. Every seat in the auditorium and the balcony was taken, and the stage, the space in the rear of the seats, and the aisles for some distance toward the platform, were jammed with auditors.

Why Dr. Lindsay Changed His Mind.

The number of ministers of the gospel in the audience and on the stage, astonished the average attendant on political meetings. Near the temorary chairman sat the Rev. Henry D. Lindsay, the Rev. Dr. B. F. Woodburn, the Rev. Dr. W. H. McMillan, the Rev. Dr. John B. McNaugher and in the audience the faces of many other ministers were seen. On the stage sat most of the fusion candidates on the county ticket. In the balcony were many women, who applauded as heartily as the male portion of the audience.

Chairman S. S. Woodburn introduced Dr. Lindsay as the permanent chairman of the meeting. "When Dr. Woodburn asked me to preside over this meeting," said Dr. Lindsay, "I said very emphatically: 'No.' I am a preacher, not a politician.' I was about to turn away from the telephone, when the thought struck me that that was what was the matter with Allegheny: One man was a merchant, but no politician; one man was a doctor, but no politician; one man was a lawyer, but no politician. We let politics alone and leave to professional politicians the affairs of the city. I believe the crux of our present troubles is the bad citizenship of good men. There are many good men in Allegheny, but there are too many bad men to whom the good men abandon public affairs. There are two kinds of bad citizens—the bad man who is in politics for revenue only, and the good man who lets politics alone for revenue only. The movement will bring good men to the front, and good men will be placed at the head of affairs in Allegheny city."

Yells of Politicians Not Heard.

Dr. Lindsay's words seemed to strike to the point, for his hearers frequently applauded him. There were many present whose enthusiasm took the form of handclapping. They probably had attended but few political gatherings, so there was not so much shouting and yelling as at the ordinary gathering of the kind, but there was general handclapping.

W. H. S. Thompson was the first speaker introduced by Dr. Lindsay. Mr. Thomson told his hearers he was a Democrat, but he also reminded them that the Citizens movement included Republicans and Democrats and members of other parties, who on this occasion stood together on the broad platform of good citizenship. Democrats and Republicans had called John B. Larkin to the head of Pittsburgh's financial affairs, he said, and to his question whether anyone was sorry that Larkin was successful, there were shouts of "No."

A. B. Stevenson of Braddock caught the audience from the start. He was witty, in a dry sort of way, and the left-handed compliments he showered on Gov. Stone were applauded. "Six years ago I stood with Gov. Stone on the same platform," said Mr. Stevenson, "and heard him denounce the 'corruption' and 'jobbing' of the people on the other side of the river, whom you call the ring. How times have changed. Have you invited him to address you? (Cries of "no.") He is too rich for your blood, I take it."

Larkin Gave Some Figures.

Controller John B. Larkin of Pittsburg devoted nearly his whole speech to county financial affairs. In 1890, he said, the salaries paid at the court house amounted to $482,776 and $537,064 in 1901, an increase of more than $54,000. To assess the taxes had cost in 1890, $60,532, and in 1901, $85,000. The coroner's office cost $24,207 in 1890, and $54,025 in 1901. The appropriation for the jail and court house increased in 1901 over that of 1890. If the machine was asked the reason for these increases the answer was that the growth of the population made it necessary. In answer he pointed out that to run the courts it cost very little more in 1901 than in 1890, whereas if the machine's argument was correct, the increase in the cost of the courts ought to be much greater. The extravagance was confined to county officials and was not due to the courts.

Mr. Larkin touched on the county contingent fund and showed that when the city machine was ripped out of office many of its adherents were discharged from the city's employ and places were made for them at the court house, so that, while the expenditures from the contingent fund were only $22,823 in 1890, in 1901 they amounted to $81,961.

Shiras' Pointed Talk.

George Shiras III., the Citizens' candidate for congress in the Allegheny district, was received enthusiastically when he was introduced. Mr. Shiras' remarks were devoted chiefly to an explanation why the fight against the machine could not be made within the party lines and why the aid of Democrats was necessary. He said:

The questions in this campaign can hardly be dignified as issues, they are too one-sided. Good government against bad government; economy against extravagance; honest public servants chosen by the people, and not dummies selected by the bosses; equal rights for all, instead of political despotism and favoritism. Surely these are not issues requiring any discussion, for to state them is to answer them.

The real question is, does the Citizens party stand for the purification of our political system, and the restoration to the people of their political and civil rights? Even this question seems to have been answered in the affirmative by the people in the last two weeks, if we may judge from the great assembly at Old City hall and the numerous local meetings, where the attendance is only limited by the size of the hall.

If this is so, then let the victory come by such a decisive majority that the county election of 1902 will stand as a warning to the ones and to the machine, that, in the past, have so recklessly disregarded the rights of the people without incurring fear of punishment.

An Examination of Conditions.

It is well to examine carefully the conditions that exhibit in this community in order that we may hereafter apply the proper remedy.

It has become a recognized fact that in most public communities where one political party has a large majority, continuing in power for many years, that a machine is built up, which in time takes the place and usurps the political party itself, resulting in misrule, extravagance and utter disregard of public expression.

This is true of the city of Pittsburgh, and the county of Allegheny. It is true of the city of Philadelphia, of the city of New York, and of all the great municipalities and communities where one party is long in the ascendency. These results are natural and not abnormal. In the beginning the people may have been to blame for not breaking down the machine at its inception, but today political tyranny has become so entrenched that the average citizen is powerless to free himself, and only the united effort of the entire community can now succeed in striking down this evil.

Let us see it requires the cooperation of all good citizens, irrespective of party, to accomplish the overthrow of the despotism that exists in this community.

Machine and Bosses Analyzed.

What is the machine? And what is a political boss? Many years ago the Republican party became dominant in this community. It controlled all the offices. Naturally the officeholders combined. They agreed among themselves to seek each other's support for renomination. As a result of this compact many officeholders continued in the same position for successive terms, and others, by a system of rotation, occupied different offices, some higher and some lower, but nearly all continued in office under this plan of succession and if not it was because such officeholders were not true to the ring, or were lacking in political strength, which was equally fatal. Naturally they were assisted by the support of the thousands of subordinate appointees, who were controlled by their superiors. Then behind these came the favored contractors, who desired the political influence of this combination.

Then, too, came the great corporations seeking favors. As a result of this an effective machine was built up, composed of thousands of officeholders with strong financial backing, and whenever a political movement antagonistic to the machine showed signs of destroying the organization, all combined against the common enemy. This machine has naturally been presided over and its methods controlled by certain men who have been called "bosses." The next step was the creation of the so-called "organization." Let us see what it is.

Proper Kind of Organization.

All voters recognize the necessity for the existence of political parties, and they also recognize the fact that such parties must have "organization." Now the proper purpose of a party organization is, that when the people at the primaries have selected their candidate the organization will then come to the front and by promulgation of party principles, and by systematic work among the voters, assist in the election of the candidates of their party.

The "organization" to this county, as now constituted and controlled, has perverted the very purpose for which it was formed. This organization invariably selects the candidates for the party, and they say to the voter, "You must elect him, or otherwise you are disloyal to your party." In this way, then, they have pointed the guns of the organization not upon their political enemies, but upon the rank and file of their own party, saying, "You shall have no right to select your party representatives: we have done this for you, and if you do not elect them then we will drive you out of our party."

And so this system has continued without a break for 25 years, with its natural accompaniment of extravagance and corruption. At length the Republican voters in this community recognize the true situation.

Who the Real Traitors Are.

They now see that the real traitors are those in possession of the party organization, and in joining the Citizens party, composed almost wholly of loyal disinterested Republicans, they show their highest fealty to the party because one of the main purposes of this temporary movement is to restore to the Republican masses their right of managing and controlling their party directly, instead of having it run by a self-perpetuating clique who utterly ignore those they are supposed to represent and substitute machine despotism for the fulfillment of the party will.

The extravagance, corruption, bad government and the insolent assumption of power by the machine are only the natural results of ring rule which for years has feared no practical resentment from the people. All in this community have suffered, irrespective of party affiliations, and it is for this reason today that the old-time and consistent Republicans, the entire rank and file of the Democratic party and the independent voter have all united in the effort to destroy a machine composed of a great body of men who recognize no authority but what emanates from their own ranks, or which comes from the bosses in command of the organization.

Machine Exacts Tribute From All.

In one respect the machine is non-partisan, for it preys upon the community as a whole and makes no distinction between Democrat and Republican, but extracts its tribute from all alike. We have, therefore, the extraordinary spectacle of paying large sums of money through a thousand different channels to a machine, a great portion of which is used in fortifying themselves against the attacks of the very people they have outraged and enslaved.

As we said before, this combination of officeholders and of the bosses and their enormous beneficiaries, has resulted in the continued renomination of a public servant without the voter having aught to do in the matter. This is called making the "slate." In order to make the slate effective, it is necessary to have the same ratified at the party primaries. Now, what are the primaries as they exist today in our community? A knowledge of how they are conducted will answer the question that has been frequently asked, why it is that the Republican candidates on the Citizens ticket did not go into a contest at the primaries?

Until the voters realized what the Republican primaries are in this county, the question seems like a fair one. Assuming now that the candidates who are running for each office in the county today are contestants at a Republican primary, how many delegates would it require the candidates to set up in order to represent them in the several conventions?

Army of Delegates Required.

It may be a surprise to the voter to know that in this contest for the present county and district officers, that it would require 17,000 men to run as delegates in order to nominate about 25 candidates out of the 50 who are running for those offices. That is, if a separate convention were held for each office to be filled, the only true way whenever a contest arises. Under machine rule, where there is no longer a contest, the ring delegate goes over the entire roll votes in a convention for four or five different county delegates. The army of delegates needed can be seen at a glance. There are about 900 election precincts in the county. If 15 offices are to be filled, and there are 30 candidates, or two only for each office, this would be 30 times 900, or 18,000 delegates.

In addition to these, any one who is familiar with the delegate system in Allegheny county realizes the fact that a delegate, to be successful, must usually be assisted in his campaign work in the ward, borough or township in which he is running by at least two workers who will aid him in getting out the voters and watching the interests of his candidate at the polls.

Cumbersome and Expensive System.

This would require 54,000 more men, or a total of 71,000 men, to which must be added about 2,000 election officers, so that we have the remarkable fact that in order to nominate the present ticket at the Republican primaries the machinery necessary to set in motion to accomplish such a result requires an army of men twice the size of the standing army of the United States as it stood before the Spanish war, or equal to almost the total Republican vote in the county, and at a cost of not less than $100,000—more than double the amount of the combined salaries of the county officers.

To say that such a cumbersome and expensive system of party politics is absurd. But what we consider that such a contest, if made, would be one-sided, because of the fact that the organization controls the county committee, most of the primary election boards and a vast number of strong delegates in the county today, who can be put into the field at a week's notice without any cost to the slated candidates for whom they are running, is in itself sufficient to deter any one becoming a candidate unless on the slate.

That these facts are not exaggerated it is only necessary to ask how many bona fide political contests have occurred in the Allegheny county Republican primaries in the past 25 years? Out of the hundreds of officials elected, whose salaries range from $500 to $10,000 a year, and possessing great power, dignity and influence, in how many cases has there been a contest? I doubt if one vote in a thousand can recall more than two such contests at the Republican county primaries within the last 25 years, and in none of these has the slated candidate been defeated.

An Astounding Spectacle.

We have, therefore, the remarkable fact that for a quarter of a century the people have absolutely been denied the right of selecting their own representatives, although they may have had the apparent privilege, from time to time, of recording at the polls the ratification of the slate made by their ring, and to that extent only have they been permitted to participate in local self-government.

What does such a treatment mean? What that every county officeholder today, including 11 judges, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, jury commissioner, to whose hands particularly are entrusted the people's lives and most precious liberties, have all had to look to the boss, the slate, the packed primaries for their elevation and continuance in office. Such a condition is not only objectionable, it is almost criminal, and no one will welcome the coming change more than the bench and bar of Allegheny county.

Few scandals have yet developed among the higher officers in the administration of justice, but the conditions as they exist are a standing menace to the community. Then when we come to consider the other county officers, we can see plain peril in having them chosen by the machine—the controller controlled by the boss, the treasurer having his large deposits for machine manipulation, the jury commissioners selecting ring supporters, and so on through the entire list of county officials who must necessarily owe their first duty to the power that made them.

Consider Principles, Not Men.

From these statements, however, it is not to be inferred that the candidates on the ring ticket today are all men, who, as individuals, should be condemned. Far from it; many of them are decent and intelligent men; but they are a part of a most vicious system, and the very arguments used to save the better class of officeholders on the ring ticket from defeat, constitute the most dangerous, cunning and sophistical arguments in this campaign.

The better the man on the ring ticket the more reason for his pointed defeat, for the system of despotic government in this community being admitted, and the great train of evils that have followed in its wake, the reenthronement of the voter should be all the more marked toward the ring candidate, who by his air of respectability attempts to divide the opposition of this vicious system. While it is true that in many municipal contests the safe rule is to vote for the best men irrespective of party, in this campaign particularly, such a rule would be exceedingly dangerous because it is the system that is attacked as a whole, and not the candidate personally; that is to say, principles, not men, are involved in the present contest and is the usual condition in a municipal campaign, but one that in this instance should be fully recognized. The candidates on the Citizens ticket are only standard bearers who are making the peoples' fight, and they seek the success of the movement and not the office for which they have been nominated. None desire to be elected unless all are elected.

Utter Annihilation Demanded.

When this system is destroyed and competent servants put in office by the direct vote of the people to whom they are responsible, then it ought to be possible to run the government in an economical and honest way. If this is not true then popular government is a failure, and we will gradually descend lower in the downward course which cannot be stayed if the masses are indifferent to their civil and political rights.

Admitted corruption has now corroded to a large extent the public conscience. The councils have been corrupted, the integrity of our governor has been questioned and the supreme court in this state has been made the battleground for factional legislation. Like all diseases, if not checked it will be progressive, and in the end destroy this great republic.

In November the people will be put to the test. Judging from the present indications there can be no doubt about the result for the voters have never been so united in seeking an opportunity to express themselves and their only complaint now seems to be that a number of weeks are yet to intervene before they can meet the enemy to a battle that knows no mercy, but demands the utter annihilation of the Hessian army.

Addresses were made by John M. Gochring, candidate for senator in the Forty-fourth district; M. R. Trauerman and John Francis, candidates for the legislature in the Fourth district. David B. Oliver was to speak, but Dr. Lindsay read a note in which Mr. Oliver said that while he was unable to attend he would be there in spirit.

ROUSING ETNA MEETING.

Citizens' Candidates Received An Enthusiastic Welcome From Big Crowd.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather and the necessity of occupying damp seats in the open air, about 600 men assembled at the West Etna ball park last night to hear representatives of the Citizens party expound the issues of the campaign. The speakers aroused the wildest enthusiasm by their arraignment of the machine government.

The meeting was presided over by William Harmon and the speakers were William S. Woods, candidate for senator; F. F. Mevay and George Owens, candidates for legislature, Seventh district, and Robert J. Cunningham, candidate for county controller. The Anthracite Miners' Glee club sang patriotic and campaign songs and delighted the audience.

Mr. Woods made the speech of the evening and was accorded a rousing welcome. After outlining the policy of the Citizens party and speaking of the fight, which they intended to make for good government in the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and throughout Allegheny county, he urged all present to vote the straight Citizens ticket, cutting no candidate, as the candidates were not making a fight, merely each to secure an office for himself, but that the Citizens ticket might be elected as a whole, and their policy supported throughout the county.

Little Democratic Greene, in Muddy Boots, Yields Them Comfort.

Ex-Governor Complains of the Loss of Charles Emory Smith. Acheson Feels Sure the Courts Will Decide in His Favor.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 25.—Two victories and one defeat will be the record of Robert E. Pattison in Washington county after November 4. Twice has he been given a majority here, but he did not have a Penny-packer opponent.

The Democratic campaigners covered Greene and Washington counties today, despite the fact that they were held up four hours by a railroad wreck at New Brighton. A special train from Pittsburgh to Waynesburg was necessary to fill the engagements.

It was 5 o'clock when the capital of Greene was reached, and the spellbinders did not get here until 9 o'clock. They had an audience of about 800 people. They grow the rest Democrats down in Greene. The fact that it rained most of the day, and that Pattison and Guthrie were four hours late in arriving, did not appear to dampen the ardor of the unterrified.

Farmers drove 18 miles to hear Pattison talk. It is likely that some of them were disappointed. They expected a Democratic speech, but did not get it, and were not even allowed to drive their mules in the parade.

Greene Still Democratic.

There were about 1,500 people in the opera house. Some of them had mud on their boots and in their hair, but their lungs were not clogged. It was an enthusiastic assemblage, and little Greene will come along in November with the usual Democratic majority.

There were some Republicans in the audience at Waynesburg. Ex-Senator D. F. Walton was one of them. Like a number of others, he was there to hear the arguments of the defense. He was not convinced. The report that Senator Walton is sulking because he failed to get the Republican congressional nomination is moonshine.

When the special arrived here this afternoon these Greene county Democrats received the party and conducted it to Waynesburg. Maj. R. H. Phelan, Judge R. L. Crawford, J. M. Morris, C. M. J. Carroll, Noah Patterson, William Jacobs, Lindsay Stevens and John McCullough. A. A. Purman was chairman of the meeting. Representative George B. Dixon of Elk, ex-Gov. Pattison and George W. Guthrie were the speakers.

Pattison got out of the beaten track long enough to call attention to the fact that Charles Emory Smith is for Penny-packer. The ex-governor endeavored to show that the Philadelphia editor is not consistent.

The Washington Meeting.

The reception committee in Washington consisted of R. W. Irwin, A. G. Braden, J. M. Patterson, J. C. Judson, A. S. Sprowls, R. W. Knox, T. J. Duncan, J. B. R. Streator, Dr. W. L. McCleery and Leroy Alexander. Col. P. J. Fitzsimmons had been left here to open the meeting. He was introduced by T. J. Duncan. When the party arrived from Waynesburg, Mr. Guthrie relieved the colonel.

The candidate for lieutenant governor attacked the registration in Philadelphia. He said that there were 375,000 on the registry. He contended that this was entirely too high, and charged fraud. He was followed by Pattison and Dixon.

There were a number of Republicans in the audience who will vote for Pennypacker. Among them was Congressman E. F. Acheson. With friends he was there to hear what his opponents had to say. Mr. Acheson says some Republicans will vote for Pattison, but not enough to give him the county. The Methodist preachers are all for the ex-governor, but there are numerous members of their flocks who are not. The Democrats will not be able to defeat the Republican candidates for assemblymen.

"I will not file nomination papers," said Congressman Acheson. "I am satisfied that the Dauphin county courts will sustain my certificate of nomination if it is attacked by James H. Cunningham of Beaver or any of his friends. The decision of Judge Shafer, in which he held that the district rules were regularly adopted, satisfies me. I am nominated under those rules. Ten years ago Job of Greene carried a similar case against me into the Dauphin courts, and Judge Simonton decided against him."

The nomination papers of Cunningham in this county are being circulated by Ralph McConnell. So far he has been unable to secure the requisite number of signers. Many of the men who have fought Acheson in the past have not signed the petition.

Armstrong and Jefferson counties will be invaded tomorrow. There will be an afternoon meeting at Kittanning and a night gathering at Punxsutawney.

GEORGE A. KELLY DIED YESTERDAY AT STOCKBRIDGE

His Sons and Daughters Were Present at the Time of His End.

HEART FAILURE CAUSED HIS DEATH

He Was Engaged 40 Years in the Drug Trade and Was Active in Commercial, Religious and Charitable Work of Pittsburgh.

George A. Kelly, senior member of the George A. Kelly Drug Company, and one of Pittsburgh's foremost citizens, died yesterday morning at Stockbridge, Mass. The remains will be brought to the Kelly residence, at Shady avenue and Howe street, at 9 a. m. today. Arrangements for the funeral services have not yet been announced.

Mr. Kelly's passing did not surprise his friends. For more than a year he had not enjoyed good health, and the death of his devoted wife, seven months ago, weakened the spirit that had so bravely contended against the ills of advancing age. Physicians advised a change of scene for their patient, and late in August Mr. Kelly went to Stockbridge, where it was hoped that the invigorating air and the tranquil life in the picturesque Berkshire hills would have a favorable effect.

For a time Mr. Kelly showed signs of improvement, but two weeks ago a relapse came, and it was apparent that it would be but a little time until the end. His family was summoned to his bedside and remained until the end.

Heart Failure Caused Death.

When Mr. Kelly's sons and daughters arrived at Stockbridge he rallied and for a few days seemed to be making a renewed battle in his valiant fight for life, but another recurrence of heart failure caused his death, early yesterday morning.

Since the first attack of nervous dyspepsia, and consequent heart failure, three weeks ago, Mr. Kelly had been showing signs of steady improvement up to Wednesday afternoon; then he had a sinking spell, from which he had apparently rallied by 2 o'clock. Early yesterday morning, the heart again showed signs of weakness. Dr. Thomas S. Southworth of New York, who had charge of the case, hastily administered heart stimulants, but with little effect.

All of the children, George, Samuel, Miss Agnes and Miss Grace Kelly went to the bedside. Their father talked occasionally and gave every evidence that he was fully conscious until about the time of death, which came about 6 o'clock. The children started for Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon and will reach Pittsburgh at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

His Successful Business Career.

Mr. Kelly was born in Pittsburgh 70 years ago, and throughout his life manifested the liveliest interest in the city's affairs. He learned the drug business and more than 40 years ago, in partnership with Henry P. Swartz of Allegheny, launched into the trade on his own account. Success smiled on his efforts from the start, and in less than 10 years his business increased to such proportions that he moved into larger quarters at Second avenue and Wood street. Subsequently the firm was reorganized under the style of the George A. Kelly Co., with Mr. Kelly as the president. The company about two years ago moved into its present building in Seventh avenue.

In 1859 Mr. Kelly married Miss Agnes Roseberg, a sister of William Roseberg, president of the Bank of Pittsburgh. He is survived by two sons, George A., Jr., and Samuel R., and two daughters, Misses Grace and Agnes Kelly.

His was interested in many religious and charitable institutions and contributed liberally to their support. He was a member of the East Liberty Presbyterian church and served on the board of trustees. His religion and his charity was of the practical kind. His manner lacked any degree of ostentation. He was interested in every undertaking for the best interests of the city, but he rarely pushed himself to the front and his name often was not mentioned in work in which he led.

Interested in Public Affairs.

For many years he manifested great interest in the affairs of the Western Penitentiary and was one of its board of managers. In this work he became acquainted with Capt. Edward S. Wright, who was warden of the institution at that time, and their friendship was severed only by death. He was a most active member of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce and was elected vice president at its last annual meeting. Previous to this, he had filled the office of president. He was vice president of the Merchants and Manufacturers bank, and on August 14 last, attended a meeting of the board. This was but a few days before he left for Stockbridge.

The Rev. Dr. P. W. Sneed, Mr. Kelly's pastor, is absent in Europe and the Rev. Dr. J. P. K. Kumler, former pastor of the church, may conduct the funeral services, which probably will be held tomorrow afternoon. A meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held today to take appropriate action on his death.

SPROWLS FAMILY HOLDS ITS FIRST ANNUAL REUNION

Members of Four Generations Present at the Affair.

BAD WEATHER REDUCED ATTENDANCE

By GEORGE A. CAMPSEY.
Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 25.—The first reunion of the descendants of John Sprowls, a pioneer settler of Washington county, was held in Stout's grove, West Finley township, today, and was attended by over 1,000 persons. Preparations had been made for 5,000, but the inclemency of the weather marred the day.

Four generations of Sprowls were present at the reunion today, and hereafter it will be an annual affair. A permanent organization of the Sprowls families was effected with Dr. W. W. Sprowls of Houstonville, Pa., as president, and W. A. Sprowls of East Finley township, secretary. The executive committee is composed of A. S. Sprowls, Esq., Washington, Pa.; Wyatt Sprowls, West Finley; John Nelson Esly, East Finley; James Sprowls, West Finley, and Albert Sprowls, Canonsburg.

The exercises of the reunion were scheduled to begin at 11 o'clock, but owing to a blinding rain, which fell at that hour, it became necessary to postpone them until 2 o'clock. In the absence of the chairman of the executive committee, J. N. Esly, Dr. W. W. Sprowls acted in his stead. The Claysville Cornet band furnished music for the occasion.

Relics of Old Family.

The Rev. J. A. McCalmont, pastor of the Dogwood Grove United Presbyterian church, opened the exercises with prayer. The principal address of the day was delivered by Attorney Albert S. Sprowls of Washington, Pa., who gave the history of the Sprowls family from the time John Sprowls and his wife, Elizabeth, left Ireland in 1794 to the present day.

Of the 1,000 persons present at the reunion, upwards of 300 members of Sprowls' families from different parts of the country signed the register. There are several hundred families by the name of Sprowls living in Washington county and the most conservatie estimates today placed the number of persons bearing the name in the county at 1,000.

Built in the center of the beautiful grove, in which the reunion was held, was a log cabin, typical of the first residence of John Sprowls in Finley township. This log cabin was filled with relics and heirlooms of the different families of his descendants and was the center of attraction for visitors during the day.

Hung on the walls were revolvers, swords, sabers and rifles, used by members of Sprowls families in the civil war. On a large table, covered with a United States flag, were placed many relics from the Spanish-American war in the Philippine Islands, in which several members of the present generation took part.

Heirlooms Were Shown.

Old family Bibles well worn were placed on the shelves in the building, while old-fashioned lanterns, pictures and other curiosities were to be seen. A spinning wheel, used by one of the members of the first family, was on exhibition and home spun linen, woven by Jane Sprowls in 1825 was shown.

The leading features of the day were the amusements. A unique feature was the judges, the ages of five of whom reached almost 400 years. They were as follows: Henry Fields, 81; James Sprowls, Sr., 78; Christian Plants, Sr., 80; Robert Marshall, Sr., 74, and James Hunter, Sr., 82.

The oldest living descendant of John Sprowls is James Sprowls, Sr., of West Finley township, who is favorably known as "Carpenter Jim" Sprowls. Mr. Sprowls is 78 years of age, hale and hearty, and was the central figure of the vast throng at the reunion.

The Sprowls family history as read by Attorney A. S. Sprowls is in part as follows: "In 1794 John Sprowls of Enniskillen, Ireland, feeling that he could better his condition and be free from political and religious questions which were then disturbing that unfortunate country, determined with his wife and family to emigrate to America. Sailing from Londenderry after a three-months' voyage they arrived at Philadelphia.

The Family History.

"Carlisle, Pa., was the first settlement, where the family remained two years and afterward by means of horses the members transported themselves to the town of California, Pa., where they stayed but a short time and then went to Allen township until 1810, when they removed to a farm in Finley township about one and one-half miles south of the village of Good Intent.

"John Sprowls, with the assistance of his sons, built a log house. The cabin was located in the midst of a vast wilderness and the family spent many an anxious night on account of wolves.

"After establishing for himself and family a pleasant and happy home, John Sprowls died upon his farm in 1843, at the ripe old age of 96 years, his wife having proceeded him to the grave in 1818, aged 57. Both are buried on the farm, which they conquered from the wilderness, in what is known as the old Sprowls graveyard, on land lately owned by W. W. Sprowls in East Finley township."

The history of the first, second and third generations was then read and as a greater part of the fourth generation is now living no attempt was made to give its history. Provision was made, however, for the collection and compiling of the complete history to date.

A Soldierly Race.

Continuing Mr. Sprowls said: "The fourth generation has contributed a number of soldiers to the civil war. George and Jesse Sprowls, sons of William A. Sprowls, enlisted in the One Hundred and Fortieth Pennsylvania volunteers. The former died at Andersonville and the latter was killed at Gettysburg. William A. Sprowls enlisted in the Eighth Pennsylvania reserves and has an excellent record as a soldier.

"The main descendants of John and Elizabeth Sprowls have been farmers. It is true that some of the present generation have chosen other occupations, such as the ministry, medicine and law. But, as we have devoted our labors principally to the first, second and third generations, we refer to them with pride, as they were composed of sturdy, honest and exemplary men and women.

"It is well to recollect that in their homes that book of books, the Bible, had the first place, and that their children were taught to reverence its holy lessons. Their good reputation is of rich heritage and we should all live in such a way as to insure its preservation."

Among the prominent persons who attended the reunion today were: Mrs. Sarah Henderson, Chicago, Ill.; John L. Sumney and wife, Donora, Pa.; Attorney Albert S. Sprowls, wife and daughter, Washington, Pa.; Isaac Rockey and wife, Nebraska; Elymas Sprowls and family, Canonsburg, Pa.; Dr. W. W. Sprowls, Houstonville, Pa.; J. Add Sprowls, Donora, Pa., and Dr. J. N. and George B. Sprowls of Claysville, Pa.

DEER CREEK CHURCH IS 100 YEARS OLD

The Largest Rural Congregation in Allegheny County Yesterday Celebrated Its Centennial.

The Deer Creek United Presbyterian church, which has the largest membership of any rural congregation in Allegheny county, yesterday celebrated its centennial with special services. The church building is located at Lewis, near Bakerstown, and throughout the day the building was crowded with a large congregation in observance of the 100-year anniversary.

The exercises began at 10 o'clock and were conducted by the Rev. A. P. Gibson, the pastor. The Rev. W. I. Wishart, pastor of the Eighth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, preached the anniversary sermon. After dinner, served by the women of the congregation, the afternoon exercises opened with addresses of welcome by members of the congregation and a committee from Allegheny presbytery. Addresses were also made during the afternoon by Judge J. D. Shafer and by the Rev. Samuel M. Hood of Norionville, Kas., and the Rev. W. J. McClintock of Fredericksburg, O., both former pastors. At the evening session the Rev. Dr. D. F. McGill, pastor of the Sixth church, Allegheny, delivered an address on "The Future Prospects of the Country Church."

The first church building of the Deer Creek congregation was erected in 1802. The present building, which occupies the site of the first building, was built in 1885. Since the church was organized it has had but five pastors, the Revs. James McConnell, A. G. Shafer, S. M. Hood, W. J. McClintock and A. P. Gibson, the present pastor. The present membership of the church is 229. The elders are David Bryson, John Allison, Hugh Hamilton, J. N. Fulton, John Bryson and D. D. McKelvey. The trustees are J. C. Carnahan, James McIntyre, A. Canning and H. C. Montgomery. Mr. Carnahan is also superintendent of the Sabbath school.

DROPPED DEAD ON WAY HOME FROM CHURCH

Oakmont Minister Hastened from Prayer Meeting to Catch a Train.

BODY WAS NOT FOUND UNTIL MORNING

The Rev. George L. Lee of Oakmont was found dead about 120 yards from Carvers Ferry station, on the Allegheny Valley railroad, yesterday morning. He was pastor of the First Baptist church of Freeport and was last seen alive at the prayer meeting Wednesday night. Just before the close of the meeting the Rev. Mr. Lee discovered it was train time, had a deacon of the church conclude the meeting, and hurried from the building. It is thought heart disease caused his death.

The Rev. Mr. Lee was born in Perry street, this city, 55 years ago, and is survived by his wife and 10 children: Caleb C. and A. M. Lee, attorneys; Samuel Lee of the Carnegie Steel Company; Mrs. J. M. Hamilton; Mrs. R. C. McLean of Oakmont, Miss Anna Lee of the Presbyterian Mission school, Marshall, N. C., and the Misses Cora, Nancy, Margaret and Rebecca Lee, who lived at home. He is survived also by two brothers, Caleb, Jr., of Oakmont and John Lee of Pittsburgh, and three sisters, Mrs. Wilson Miller of Allegheny, Mrs. George V. Marshall of Pittsburgh and Miss Annie Alexander of Oakmont.

William Clarke, a 13-year-old son of John Clarke of Port Perry, died yesterday morning at the Mercy hospital from injuries received by falling under a train on the Union railroad in the Port Perry yards early Tuesday morning. The lad was employed about the yards and attempted to board a moving freight train. His right leg was taken off. The coroner is investigating, as the boy alleged he was shoved off the train by one of the crew.

Eugene Scanlon of Mt. Washington dropped dead in a saloon at No. 623 Fifth avenue yesterday afternoon. Death was due to heart disease. He was 30 years old and married.

James Perkins, a 10-year-old son of William Perkins of Boundary street, was struck by a street car in Atwood street yesterday and died at Mercy hospital at 5:20 p. m. from his injuries. The boy was going home from school and ran in front of the car.

John Hobedline, a miner, was killed by a fall of slate in a mine of the Allegheny Coal Company at Chestnick yesterday.

Other meetings will be held at Lestadale in Groetzinger's hall, and at Enterprise hall, McKees Rocks.

Candidates Were Here.

The Republican state campaign party spent several hours in Pittsburgh yesterday, having arrived here from Philadelphia on their way to Beaver Falls. Judge Pennypacker, the candidate for governor, said that he thought the local conditions here would tend to bring out a large vote. He said he was not going to hold a joint debate with Mr. Pattison. While the party was in Pittsburgh the secretary of internal affairs, James W. Latta, and William M. Brown, the candidate for lieutenant governor, paid a visit to Republican headquarters.

Chairman A. C. Robertson of the Republican county committee yesterday announced the following meetings: Thursday evening, October 2, Groetzinger's hall, Lestadale; speakers, Congressman W. H. Graham, Thomas J. Ford and Henry M. Long. Saturday evening, October 4, Natrona opera house; speakers, Hon. W. H. Graham, Arch Mackrell, William B. Kicker and T. J. Ford. MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Deaf Mutes Will Honor the Late Rev. Thomas Gallaudet on Sunday.

A service in memory of the late Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D. D., will be held in the chapel of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church next Sunday at 3 p. m. The Rev. Austin W. Mann, minister in charge of the "Silent mission," will officiate and preach on the life and labors of the "apostle to the deaf mutes," as the good doctor came to be known from the day that he began the "voiceless ministry" of the Episcopal church in New York, half a century ago, by founding St. Ann's church for deaf mutes. His father founded the first school for this class in the United States at Hartford, Conn., in 1817. His mother was a deaf mute, but his father was not. The father was a graduate of Yale college. His youngest brother founded the National College for the Deaf, located at Washington, D. C.

At 10:45 a. m. the Rev. Mr. Mann will conduct a service of the holy communion in the chapel.

To Hold Quarterly Meeting—The regular meeting of the Junior Missionary association of the Allegheny and Monongahela presbytery of the United Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow afternoon in room 708 of the United Presbyterian Publication building in Ninth street. As important business is to be considered, the superintendents and leaders of junior societies are urged to attend.

Unknown Man Badly Hurt—An unknown man was found lying at the Allegheny Valley railroad crossing at Thirty-fifth street yesterday with a large cut on the left side of his head, the cut probably struck by a train. Dr. Clark of No. 3520 Butler street said the man was suffering from concussion of the brain and ordered his removal to the West Penn hospital. He is about 40 years old.

Commencement Exercises—The commencement exercises of the Allen public school were held last night in the public school hall, Allen avenue. Thirty-nine pupils were graduated. Addresses were made by Prof. H. H. Holbrook, principal of the South Side High School; the Rev. W. H. McMurray, pastor of the Knoxville United Presbyterian church, and H. J. Hartzell, president of the school board, who presented the diplomas.

Had Both Arrested—Mrs. Bella Spradley of No. 1203 Clark street yesterday caused the arrest of Jennie Jackson, colored, of No. 1215 Clark street on the charge of keeping a disorderly house, and L. Soloman of No. 1425 Fifth avenue, charged with receiving stolen goods. Mrs. Spradley alleges that her son has been very intimate with the Jackson woman, and that while she was away from home took Soloman to the house and sold him about $300 worth of household goods for $11.25, which money he spent with the Jackson woman. Soloman was released on bail.

Fortune Teller in Trouble—Thomas Hall and his wife Margaret Hall of No. 318 Forty-second street had a hearing before Alderman John Groetzinger yesterday on a charge of larceny. The latter was also charged with conducting a fortune telling establishment, the prosecutor in both cases being Mrs. Kate Smith of No. 1310 Wylie avenue. She says the couple, with whom she formerly lived, stole a gold watch and chain, fur collarette and $2 in cash belonging to her. She testified also that Mrs. Hall was a professional fortune teller, and her house was always crowded with negroes who came to get their fortunes told. She had no witnesses to corroborate her testimony and the alderman reserved his decision.

Allegheny Must Foot Bill—A husband's residence in Allegheny yesterday compelled the Allegheny department of charities and correction to send to the city home at Claremont a wife of but five weeks. Bagwell Stovall, colored, now living at No. 1416 Beford avenue, Pittsburgh, gained a residence by living in Rose alley, Allegheny, for three years, and about a year ago moved to Philadelphia. There he met Prudence Warfield, a handsome young colored girl, whom he married on August 10 last. They came to Pittsburgh and went to housekeeping in Bedford avenue. Mrs. Stovall became insane a day or two ago and it was finally decided that as her husband had a residence in Allegheny, that city must care for her, and she was sent to the city home yesterday.

ST. MARGARET'S OPENING WOULD BE GREAT BOON

The City Hospitals Are Overcrowded and Cases Must Be Turned Away.

NEW INSTITUTION IS NOW STANDING IDLE

Splendidly Equipped and Ready for Almost Instant Service, Delay in Getting Fund Bequeathed It Is Hardship to Suffering.

The overcrowding of the hospitals of Pittsburgh and Allegheny has increased to a serious extent. Every institution for the care of the sick and injured has been obliged to place patients on cots in hallways and reception rooms, and in many instances cases needing urgent medical attention are refused on account of the lack of accommodations. More room is the one important requirement of every hospital in the city.

In the face of these conditions the St. Margaret Memorial hospital, with its splendid facilities for relieving so much distress, remains closed, and the date of its opening seems as remotes as on the day when it was bequeathed to the city by the late John H. Schoenberger. It has been two years since the magnificent building in Forty-seventh street was completed, yet the board of trustees has been unable to acquire the entire endowment fund for the institution, and will not venture to open the hospital until a portion of the Schoenberger estate is sold and the remainder of the fund is thus secured.

All Are Overcrowded.

In a visit to the larger hospitals of the city a reporter for The Gazette found that every one was over-crowded. This is especially true of the Mercy and West Penn hospitals. A trip through these institutions reveals an unusual condition of affairs. In the Mercy, with accommodations for 260 patients, there are at present 306.

In all the wards, and particularly in the male surgical ward, it has been necessary all summer to set cots in all the aisles and to place the beds and cots so close together as to make it uncomfortable to those occupying them. In a conversation with Sister Superior De Salles of the Mercy hospital yesterday the latter said:

"The state of affairs here is really deplorable. It seems shameful that with beds for but 260 persons we never have less than 290, and most of the time over 300. We have found it necessary all summer to place convalescents on cots whenever we could, so that the more serious cases could have the beds. Our large sitting room on the south of the building, added last spring and intended simply for a lounging place for convalescents, has been in use as part of the men's surgical ward. There are at present 20 beds and some cots there."

Accidents Are Numerous.

Almost the same can be said of the Homeopathic. Both these hospitals being in the downtown district get most of the accident cases from the various mills and work shops, and all street car cases. Although at present the Homeopathic is not unusually crowded, it has been only within the past 10 days that there has been any relief from the uncomfortable conditions that prevailed during the entire summer. Superintendent F. K. Hechtel in an interview said yesterday:

"We have room here for 125 patients and at present there are 105 in the house. Now it would seem that we have no reason to complain, but when you consider that in the total number that we have room for there are 25 private patients, it will be seen that we are at present just about to the limit. We have a few private cases, but our wards are full. There were many more accidents in Pittsburgh this past summer than ever before. This can be accounted for partly from the fact that there has been so much building. And, besides, during the hot months we got most of the heat prostration cases and an unusual number of typhoid fever patients."

Conditions at West Penn.

Superintendent C. S. Howell said: "The West Penn hospital never was so crowded before. With room for 275 beds there are at present 290 beds in use, to say nothing of the cots that are put in any available spot. Fifty of the 290 beds are in private wards, so that leaves us with 220 beds for all ones. At present we have 270 cases, so that will give you some idea of the conditions here.

"All the aisles in the public wards have been filled with cots, and in the hot months this crowding was distressing. There was an awful run of typhoid fever this summer, especially among the foreigners. We are sending away typhoid convalescents every day now, but are getting pneumonia cases just about as rapidly."

The Allegheny General hospital has 50 cases at present, and as there is no more room in the four houses that are being made to serve the purposes of a hospital while the new institution is being built, no additional patients are being received. The majority of cases in the Allegheny institution are either in the accident or fever wards. With the completion of the new building there will be room for 500 patients in Allegheny.

Growth Is Necessary.

Supt. A. D. Lloyd of the South Side hospital said last night: "We have just about as many patients now as we can well handle, but until the first of this month the condition here was certainly embarrassing. We have accommodations for 55, and nearly all summer we had 100 or more. Indeed, we had some trouble in getting enough cots to place all our patients. It is evident to any one that all the city hospitals must be enlarged considerably and before very long. The city is growing and the population is increasing, yet for some years the hospitals have failed to keep pace with this increase. And the private wards in all hospitals are engaged more now than formerly. It is being recognized by most people that in case of serious illness or injury the hospital is the best place to be, as the facilities there are superior to any that can be supplied even at home. The hospitals must grow with the city."

"Every Episcopalian in Pittsburgh is praying for the opening of St. Margaret's hospital," said Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church to a reporter for The Gazette.

St. Margaret's Needed.

"The fact that the other hospitals in the city are overcrowded makes it more urgent that this magnificent institution, bequeathed to us from Mr. Schoenberger, should open its doors to the hundreds of sufferers who stand in need of the care which St. Margaret's will afford.

"However, I have no jurisdiction in the matter. The will of Mr. Schoenberger explicitly set forth that the institution should be in the sole charge of trustees composed of nine laymen of the Episcopal church, and they are perhaps doing all they can to unravel the knotty problem."

The trustees are waiting on an endowment fund of $250,000, which is tied up in the Schoenberger estate. A fund of $200,000 has been invested by John B. Jackson, treasurer of the hospital association. From this interest approximating 4½ per cent a year is accumulating.

Waiting for Settlement.

The securities are gilt-edged and the trustees consider that it is better to keep the money which the investment is giving and wait on the $250,000 fund than to open the institution now and "depend on the Lord to help them out," as one Episcopalian expressed his views.

Work on the new wing to the East End hospital, which will be the beginning of a structure costing $500,000, will be started next week. The contract was closed yesterday and the excavation for the foundation will be made without delay.

The institution at present occupies a mansion at Frankstown avenue and the Beechwood boulevard, and is overcrowded with patients. The house has accommodations for 40, but since its opening the number of cases in the hands of the nurses has been far in excess of this number. The hospital owns three acres of ground bounded by Frankstown avenue, Finley street, Shetland avenue and the boulevard, and it is the intention of the trustees to make improvements as rapidly as possible until the entire tract shall be utilized.

Gov. Stone Shirks His Responsibility.

In leaving it to Major General Miller to decide to what extent the troops shall be used to preserve order in the anthracite coal region, Gov. Stone avoids a responsibility pertaining to his own office and establishes an evil precedent. It is a cardinal principle of our institutions that the military is subject to the civil power. It is its function to act under the direction of civil authority to compel obedience to the civil law. The governor of the state as the representative of the civil authority is at all times supreme over the military forces of the state, and has no right at any time to abdicate his powers. It is the duty of the governor and not of his military subordinate to decide when and to what extent the troops shall be called out.

There is a straight, plain highway of duty along which to proceed, and the governor should follow it instead of skulking in the rear behind the discretion of his major general. If the governor is "satisfied, upon investigation, that riot, tumult and mob violence does exist," let him order it suppressed and order out enough troops for the purpose. If the sheriffs are unable to compel obedience to the law, the duty is the governor's, and that is why the constitution makes him commander-in-chief.

We commend to Gov. Stone the following proclamation, issued by Gov. Hastings on September 12, 1897, in sending troops into Luzerne county on an occasion similar to the present:

Whereas, It has been represented to me by the proper authority of Luzerne county that riotous demonstrations exist in various sections thereof, whereby the lives and property and the peace and the safety of the people are threatened, and which the civil authorities are unable to suppress, and,

Whereas, The constitution and laws of the commonwealth authorize and require the governor, whenever it may become necessary, to employ the military arm of the state to suppress domestic violence and preserve the peace:

Now, therefore, I, Daniel H. Hastings, governor of the commonwealth, do hereby admonish all good citizens and all persons within the territory and under the jurisdiction of the commonwealth against aiding or abetting any such unlawful proceedings, and I do hereby notify them that the lives and property of all citizens of the commonwealth will be protected; that the laws will be enforced; that the humblest citizen will be protected in his right to earn a livelihood and in the enjoyment of his home and family, and that the safety of his home and property of every citizen will be guaranteed at whatever cost; and I do hereby command all persons engaged in riotous demonstrations and unlawful conduct, threatening the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to disperse forthwith to their respective places of abode, warning them that persistence in violence or unlawful assemblage will compel such use of the military arm of the commonwealth as may be necessary to enforce obedience to the laws and the maintenance of good order.

An Insulting Assumption.

An apparent effort is being made by the machine administration to make Controller Larkin's acts appear in an unfavorable light. Larkin, of course, was elected on the Citizens ticket and if his course can be made unpopular it is expected to have an effect upon the coming election. The latest movement is to let a contract for an engine house in the Twenty-third ward, to be paid out of the funds acquired for building a contagious diseases hospital. The controller has refused to approve the hospital contract because the plans are for an insufficient structure, and it is assumed he will not countersign the engine house contract because he objects to the further diversion of the hospital money. Thus the machine expects to make the people of the Twenty-third ward believe they are deprived of the fine engine house merely by the whim of Mr. Larkin.

To the ordinary citizen this estimate of the popular intelligence looks like a gratuitous insult. Every voter in the city must know how the fund for hospital purposes has already been frittered away so that only $125,000 of the original $300,000 remains for construction of the hospital. Almost every voter in the Twenty-third ward must understand that it is more important to that ward and to the thirty-seven other wards in the city to have a contagious diseases hospital than to have an ornate new engine house in the Hazelwood district. Under the circumstances the situation ought to strengthen the Citizens movement rather than weaken it. Men on the payroll may be ordered to tell people that the controller is a bad man, but there is no law to compel intelligent people to believe the nonsense. The Twenty-third ward is not inhabited by numbskulls.

Park Site for School.

Though the special cable from our London correspondent indicates an unfavorable attitude on the part of Mrs. Schenley toward the use of any part of Schenley park as a site for the technological school, it is possible the lady may change her mind when the whole subject is officially presented to her. It may be assumed she has at heart the general interest of Pittsburgh, from which she derives her great wealth and income, and if assured that Pittsburgh's welfare may be best served by locating the school near the Murdock entrance, she is likely to consent.

It may as well be noted, however, that Mr. Carnahan's opinion about the necessity for obtaining Mrs. Schenley's consent is not final. Mr. E. M. Bigelow, who had much to do with securing the land for the parks, takes square issue against the Carnahan construction. True, the deeds say the land must be used for "park purposes only," but no judicial decision has been cited construing "park purposes." As Mr. Carnahan says, one cannot always tell in advance what the courts will decide, though they usually rule on the side of common sense and common usage.

Pittsburgh has deemed the Carnegie institute a "park purpose" and given land for it, Philadelphia held an exposition in Fairmount park and retained Memorial hall for educational uses. Chicago also held an exposition in its great park and devoted a certain portion to the permanent accommodation of the Field museum. Our own Highland park, Fairmount park and Central park, New York, include zoological gardens. It is now proposed—and the work should be promptly authorized—to build shelter houses and refreshment stands in Schenley park. Can any one deny that all of these things are legitimate "park purposes?"

In what way does the proposed technological school differ from the institutions commonly found in parks? Some one has said the intent to charge tuition fees puts it out of the pale. There is nothing in that plea. Carnegie Music hall charges a rental. It is susceptible of proof that the erection of the school on the site approved by the councils committee yesterday would not interfere with the "park purposes" for which Mrs. Schenley transferred the land to the city. The real test of propriety, it would seem, is whether the school will be of benefit to the people and an ornament to the public domain.

Mrs. Schenley has heretofore been gracious and obliging to this city and will likely continue so. The question is whether Pittsburgh really desires to put the school of technology in the park and the councilmanic and plan and scopo committees appear to think it does.

Amazing Boldness.

A climax of boldness is reached in two robberies reported in The Gazette of yesterday morning. In each case it was necessary to use wagons to carry away the plunder. In one case it is alleged that men boldly drove up to a house in the temporary absence of its mistress, and claiming to act by her authority, in the presence of her children and their governess loaded carpets and furniture on their vehicles and left quickly on her return. In the other case it was a store that was looted, and such a quantity of goods was taken that a wagon, it is declared, must have been used to carry the loot away. The first thought is surprise that such operations should succeed; the second is that their very boldness would insure their success. If the facts in the two cases be as related to the reporters the police have a new line of work cut out for them and a new style of marauder to deal with. The boldness of thieves who carry away their plunder in wagons is comparable to that of the outlaws who hold up and rob trains, but fortunately it is impossible for work of the kind to be long continued in a single community.

Defects of the Currency System.

The nation is now receiving its annual object lesson in the necessity for an improvement in its currency system. In quality American money is the very best. The gold standard is the only safe standard. The trouble is with the quantity, or, rather, the regulation of the supply to meet the demand. Interest rates on call loans in New York city of from 10 to 25 per cent prove that the supply is not equal to the demand. What is desirable is a method of giving elasticity to the circulating medium—of increasing the supply of money when business demands more, of decreasing the supply when business demands less.

For three-fourths of the year the supply of cash in the United States is abundant. For the remaining fourth it is insufficient. The strain comes in the late summer and early autumn, when the vast harvests are being gathered and money is needed to pay the harvest hands and to defray other expenses incident to cutting and securing the crops. In the cities a vast amount of business is done by the interchange of credits—by the use of checks. This is possible because of the plentitude of banking facilities. In the country cash is necessary, because banks are few and facilities for the use of checks are rare. The bigger the crops the more money is needed to handle them. We have, then, the anomalous situation of a basic factor in prosperity producing stringency in the money market, making interest rates high and causing loss to the borrower of funds.

Not only is elasticity of note circulation desirable to meet the conditions described, but a reformation of the treasury system is needed. At present the government's income is locked up in the vaults, aside from such moneys, except receipts from customs, as the secretary may, in his discretion, deposit in the national banks. This money is withdrawn from circulation and is therefore unavailable for daily business necessities. In the last two or three months the government's receipts have been unexpectedly large, thus increasing the scarcity of funds and making the stringency more acute than it otherwise would have been. Secretary Shaw has come to the relief of the money market, in a measure, by increasing the deposits in national banks and by offering to anticipate interest upon government bonds, but a change in the system, which will obviate the accumulation of money in the treasury, is what is needed.

At the convention of Pennsylvania bankers in Philadelphia this week C. Stuart Patterson set forth the outline of a scheme to remedy the defects of the currency system. This includes the deposit in the national banks of the government receipts over and above a working balance in the treasury; retiring the legal tender notes as rapidly as their place can be taken by national bank notes; and conferring upon national banks the privilege of establishing branches and of issuing notes of not less than $5 in denomination up to their paid-up capital, deducting their investments in real estate, and securing the notes by a lien on their assets.

Every year there is a discussion of the reforms needed by the currency system, but this year the discussion is taking a wider range, and the expectation is increasing that congress will be willing to listen to suggestions of financial experts and take some action at the approaching session.

Iowa Republicans Speak Out.

In nominating a successor to Speaker Henderson the Republicans of the Third Iowa district took occasion to specifically declare themselves upon the tariff and trust questions. The resolutions declare hearty approval of the state platform, which was practically a repetition of the national platform adopted at St. Louis. They deny that the Dingley tariff has been responsible for the trusts or promotive of monopoly, but reaffirm the proposition to alter any schedules of the tariff that may afford shelter for monopoly. The convention also eulogized Gen. Henderson for his long service to the party and the public, the panegyric being met in the warmest terms. The nominee is B. P. Birdsal of Clarion.

So there is an end of the Henderson incident. The withdrawal of the speaker appears to have been principally a personal matter. The district convention fully acquits him of any lack of sympathy with his constituents, and it has given such a plain rendering of the views of the people that no one can mistake the meaning. It is the protective system, not the schedules at any particular moment, that is upheld by the Republican party.

No doubt Iowa would welcome the establishment of a permanent tariff commission, as suggested by the president in his Indiana speech the other day. The protective policy has been so often and emphatically affirmed by the American people that it is idle to agitate the subject longer as a political issue. The principle being fixed by popular vote, the particular schedules are matter for adjustment upon a purely business basis and should be left to a commission of experts.

Mr. Phipps' Gift.

It is pleasing to note that the munificent gift from Henry Phipps, Jr., for the relief of distress among the Boers is being favorably commented upon in England. The tone of the leading papers in London is entirely friendly to the donor, and the wish is expressed that some representative American be appointed to aid in the distribution of the fund to which the Pittsburgh philanthropist has contributed so generously.

This happy outcome of the affair is largely due to the foresight of Mr. Phipps, he having explicitly urged in his letter of notification to Gen. Botha, that "nothing be done which could justly be described as unfriendly to Great Britain." To this there was a manly and generous response from the brave Boer, and thus suspicion was disarmed at the very beginning.

The increasing violence in the anthracite region leaves no option to the civil authorities save to employ whatever force may be necessary to restore order. The leaders of the miners have evidently lost control of the situation and their counsels to refrain from riot and disorder are insufficient to restrain the passions which have been aroused. In a recent speech at Scranton, President Mitchell declared: "If this strike cannot be won by honorable means, I say a thousand times it is better to lose it." The assertion is none too strong. A victory won by outlawry would unsettle the very foundations of industry.

If the crisis has really been reached in the anthracite coal strike there is all the more reason why calm, sober judgment should prevail in everything that is said and done.

The Pattison campaign seems to be creating about as much enthusiasm as a proposed Peary expedition to the north pole would arouse at this time.

The quiet that pervades Wall street these days would seem to indicate that Uncle Russell Sage's stomach is in fine working condition.

To secure lower coal prices through violence and bloodshed will be paying a pretty high price for the betterment.

MILLION DOLLAR HOUSE FOR SCHWAB

Friendly Rivalry in Sight Between His Neighborhood and Carnegie's.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, Sept. 25.

Charles M. Schwab's new home in New York will cost $700,000, at least. The plans just filed at the bureau of buildings for his Riverside residence contemplate that expense, but the certainty is that the total will more than round out the cool million. That is always the story. Mr. Schwab's house will be six stories in height, will have a frontage of 90 feet and will be 107 feet in depth. This will make a place large enough to turn around in, at least. As Pittsburghers have been told already, the property comprises a block bounded by Riverside drive, Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth streets and West End avenue, in one of the most commanding situations on the famous boulevard over the Hudson. Six stories would be a trifling height if an office edifice were to be erected, but for a private home, it is palatial. Few private houses in New York city are more than four stories and basement, while many of considerable pretension are less than that. Mr. Schwab was born and brought up in Western Pennsylvania, where space to breathe and exercise one's limbs are taken as a matter of course. Now that he intends to take up his residence in this city, he means to have conditions as nearly like his old home as possible. So there will be both height and floor space in his new home, and lots of it. The house will be built of granite, with proper trimmings, although there will not be any extraordinarily ornate display. A man of the people, Charles M. Schwab aims rather for solid utility than gimcrackery and stucco flimsiness. It will take some time for the mansion to be erected because little can be done in the winter. It is understood, however, that excavating begin without delay and that by next summer a fair idea of the completed edifice will be afforded by the progress made at that time. There are other millionaires looking toward this part of the city for homes, and no one doubts that a friendly rivalry will arise between the Schwab neighborhood on the west of Central park and Carnegie hill on the east.

Changes Wrought by Dismal Weather.

Of all the wretched, soaking, dark, smoky and depressing days of this fall, New York has had the most impressive specimen today. Only the very early milkman and street-cleaner can tell what time began to rain, for it was somewhere between the time when morning newspaper workers go to bed and the hour of industrious humanity gets down. Even policemen get drowsy in the early morning hours and prefer leaning at a comfortable angle in a dark doorway for a perpendicular nap, to looking at the weather. Whatever time the rain began, it is certain that it never stopped all day, and tonight, when Broadway should be gay, it is still raining. Theaters are silently attended, comparatively; cafes have not their usual patronage; "Peacock lane," in the Waldorf-Astoria, is dull and half-deserted, and not many men are in the corridor at the Astoria end, talking over the vagaries of the money market. All these signs point to a gathering at home firesides which is not characteristic of the average New Yorker. Many of the habitues of Broadway have gone to bed, in fact. There is little consolation in sight, for the weather forecaster says it will be cold and rainy again tomorrow.

New Horseless Idea.

Broadway yesterday saw something new in the way of realistic advertising. Riding in an ordinary two-wheeled cart, which had a third wheel rigged in front, were an old farmer and his wife, or persons made up to represent the traditional couple from the back districts. The cart was propelled by a horse, but not in the usual way. The animal was behind, and he pushed the vehicle, instead of pulling it. A large sign on the cart read: "Gosh-darn it! I've got a horseless carriage, too." The rig was an advertisement for an automobile of a certain make—that was all.

A Busy Pittsburgh Advertiser.

William S. Power, Pittsburgh's well-known advertising agent, with Mrs. Power, was at the Holland today. They came down from Niagara, where they spent several days, to enable Mr. Power to be present at the opening of the new building of the Collier Publishing Company in Thirteenth street. Mr. Power closed several large advertising contracts with leading magazines while here, and had a busy man around town all day, in spite of the beastly weather. He says that he never saw so complete an establishment as the new Collier building, which has been fitted to cover every possible need of the publishing business, and he spoke in warm admiration of the special train which brought the invited guests to the city. It was made up of Pullman cars exclusively, equipped with all kinds of luxuries not usual even on drawing-room cars. There are 200 advertising men here as guests of the Collier concern, all prominent in their respective cities. Mr. Power being one of them. Mr. and Mrs. Power left for home tonight.

Besieged by Show Girls.

John P. Harris, manager of a popular place of amusement in McKeesport, was responsible for considerable excitement around the Sturtevant house last night. He came to New York on a flying trip to engage a number of "show girls" for a spectacular production at his theater, and finding the "show girl" market rather empty he made it known that he was willing to pay as high as $25 a week and railroad expenses for suitable specimens of feminine pulchritude, with a month's engagement guaranteed. As the average stage girl in the chorus ranks is willing to work for $18 or $20, the news that such a chance was in the city traveled up and down the Rialto like lightning. Someone gave the word that Mr. Harris could be found at the Sturtevant. To that place trooped 100 or so choice "show girls," only to find that Mr. Harris had just left for Pittsburgh in response to a business telegram. Morris Mosse happened to be at the hotel, and to him fell the rather hazardous task of getting rid of the aspirants. He said today that he did it somehow, but he could not tell how. This incident rather disproves the wail of managers that "show girls" are not to be had at any price. Evidently it is only the question of terms, after all.

Conductor Full of Electricity.

On a trolley car this morning the conductor, taking a fare, gave the passenger, who happened to be a woman, an unexpected experience. As she placed the nickel in his hand she shrieked and the coin flew up in the air. There was some hubbub, in the midst of which the conductor explained. He said he had received a heavy shock at the power house and that he was "full of electricity." The passenger corroborated him by saying that she had been shocked severely when her hand, with the nickel, came into contact with his and she thought the company "should do something about it." The conductor was contrite but helpless. He said he would lay off at the end of the trip, to get the current out of him, but that he did not like to be shocked more than other people. All this suggests that there are more queer possibilities in connection with electric cars than the average woman wots of.

Bishop Potter Needs an Assistant.

Bishop Potter today decided that he needs a bishop coadjutor. In the course of an address at the diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal church he asked for an assistant to take part of the duties of the diocese on his shoulders, and declared that he would divide his salary with the appointee. Bishop Potter is a hard worker, but he finds that the calls upon his time and attention are growing so large that he is hardly equal to them single-handed. It will be remembered that he collapsed about a year ago while on a platform just about to make an address. He went to Europe for a lengthened stay and came back much improved. There is always danger of his breaking down again, however, unless the strain upon him is relaxed, and for that reason the feeling is general that the coadjutor should be appointed without delay. All that was needed was that the bishop should give his consent. He has been reluctant to do so, but today admitted that an assistant would be beneficial both to himself and the diocese.

From Shanties to Palatial Theaters.

Frank Hong, manager of the Sturtevant house, falling into a reminiscent mood this afternoon, remarked that it did not seem long since the site of Wallack's theater used to be a marble yard. Along the block which is today one of the most valuable on Broadway there were, in the old days, some 50 years ago, a row of small shanties in which small businesses were carried on, such as "an oyster bay," a tailor shop, a tinsmith and so on. Property could be bought for a mere song and persons who were shrewd enough to see that New York must grow uptown in the course of a few years, and that Broadway, with intersecting streets, in the neighborhood of Thirtieth, would be the center of the hotel district, made a great deal of money. While it is generally known that property values have increased a hundred-fold in the last 50 years, it is interesting to hear from an eye-witness what tremendous changes have occurred in the course of a generation and a half.

Roger O'Mara in the Metropolis.

Roger O'Mara, formerly at the head of the police department of Pittsburgh, is in New York. He has so many friends among police officials and members of the city government here that he is kept busy shaking hands and exchanging scraps of gossip. His stalwart figure makes him a notable personage in New York, just as it does in Pittsburgh.

Another Delay for Molineux.

The sad news was put forth today that the Molineux murder trial has been postponed again. It will not begin until November, instead of the first week in October, as was intended. With the Disbrow and Young trials both in prospect as well, New York and its vicinity will have its full of this kind of thing in the next few months. Disbrow's trial is fixed for January 12 and Young's may take place sooner than that.

Cheerful Democracy.

It is not easy to dismay the Greater New York Democracy. In fact, its sanguine temperament is the saving grace of the organization. There was a luncheon on the top floor of the Mills building this afternoon, attended by district leaders who were members of the executive and advisory committees, the host of the occasion being John P. Kelly, chairman of the general committee. William Hepburn Russell, the principal speaker, declared that the organization had polled more votes at the primary elections than was expected, and it was announced that the Greater New York Democracy would send a delegation to the state convention at Saratoga next week. It will be interesting to hear what "Big Bill" Devery will have to say about the luncheon and the sentiments uttered there. John C. Sheehan was too ill to attend, so that may disarm Devery, so far as Sheehan is concerned personally, but will not affect the general expression of sentiment of the only Devery.

No Friction on Tunnel.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is not taking any chances on its tunnel in New York being unsatisfactory, if careful consideration will prevent it. The rapid transit commission today had before it a request from the company that it be permitted to change its route in an unimportant way, and the commission probably will accede. There will be many details to adjust before the great work even is begun, and it is pleasing to the public to note that there is practically no friction in the machinery of getting the best route approved by the commission. New York wants the tunnel, and wants it badly, and the popular sentiment is that trifles should not be allowed to impede the work of building it in any way whatever.

Platt Still Easy Boss.

Senator Platt is back in the city. He looks none the worse for his defeat by Gov. Odell, and if he is not still the "easy boss," evidently he does not know it. For as many years has it been the habit to look to the shrewd, pig-headed sage of Tioga for advice on all knotty points of Republican party management that Gov. Odell will find it difficult to take the mantle to his own shoulders in this city at all events. "Admin corner" belongs to Platt and his personal friends in the party, and that corner spot is still regarded as the oracle of true Republicanism, whatever Odell may do at Albany or in Orange county.

Same Old "Upheaval."

When it is announced that there is to be "another police upheaval" the old New Yorker shrugs his shoulders and yawns in weariness of spirit. We have had police upheavals here at frequent intervals for the last 25 years, and still the force is not what it is wanted. What is the use of "upheavals," anyhow?

Honesty and Ability.

From the Reading Times.

Pennypacker has a sense of honor which will serve him well upon the stump. He is a brainy, steady man, and when one sees and hears and knows him, he does not wonder that he stood at the head of the common pleas judges of Philadelphia. He will likewise rank high as governor, because of admitted honesty and ability.

STORIES TOLD BY THE WAYSIDE

French Railroad Employe Was Staggered by Vanderbilt Extravagance.

A story comes from France about the difficulty of William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who is there on an automobile tour. In getting a special train because a country railroad employe couldn't understand that a man may be rich enough to hire a train for one person, says the Philadelphia Ledger.

Mr. Vanderbilt has been visiting in Normandy, so the story goes, and had taken a return train to Paris by way of Louviers. On arriving there it was found that the Paris train had just left and that the next one wouldn't pass for three hours. Being in a hurry, Mr. Vanderbilt called an employe of the station and told him that he wanted a train for Paris.

"But, monsieur, it's impossible; you must wait three hours."

"I don't care to wait; I want a train at once."

"Monsieur, you must wait," began the employe, who earned 1,500f. a year and couldn't conceive of the wealth that would permit a man to spend such a sum in order to wait three hours.

"I tell you, I won't wait."

"You not understand me, monsieur; ze train cet ez not for one personne. It would cost 25 cent francs!" cried the employe, shrugging his shoulders.

To end the argument, Mr. Vanderbilt handed his card to the man and told him to take it to the head agent and ask for the train. Directly he returned, having ordered the train.

"Ah, you are the rich American. Why didn't you say it, then I would have understood; you Americans do such funny things."

JUST TO MAKE IT HARDER.

In a speech delivered not long ago James H. Eckels, former controller of the currency, said he could not see the reason for some Democrats to still adhere to 16 to 1 and want it in Democratic state convention platforms, unless it was to make the fight for state officers harder, according to the New York Times. Said he: "It reminds me of a story. Of course it's about an Irishman.

"Said Pat to some friends who had been asking conundrums: 'What burrud is it that has a long beak, stands first on one leg, and then on the other, has a neck like an ostrich—anc—and—and barks like a dog?'

"They all thought, but finally gave it up, one of them saying: 'A stork is something like that, but—'

"'That's it. That's it!' said Pat.

"'But a stork doesn't bark like a dog,' they declared.

"'I know it,' exclaimed Pat. 'I put that on so it would be harder.'"

Recently a fervid orator was denouncing the evils attendant on the use of tobacco, says the Manchester (England) Times. The lecture hall in a small American town was crowded, and an aged man in the front of the audience was a source of considerable annoyance to the lecturer, especially by directing attention to himself whenever the lecturer proceeded to demonstrate the influence of alcohol in the direction of shortening life. "Look at me, look at me," continually shouted the interrupter.

At length the orator grew weary, and, turning to his antagonist, he said: "I know what you want to say. I suppose you are 87 years of age."

"Ninety-five, sir!"

"Very well, 95; and you've always smoked a pipe of tobacco before breakfast and never found that it did you any harm?"

"Yes; that's it."

"Well, if you keep on this way, you'll never die, and if you did you would never be missed. I'm only speaking of shortening the lives of folks who would leave a gap. You'd just as well keep on smoking, people cases, either way."

The old man gasped, and the audience cheered wildly.

REV. E. R. DONEHOO SPEAKS.

Though Not a Partisan He Favors Election of Josiah Cohen.

I have never allowed party lines to bear heavily upon me, nor have I ever hesitated to bestow my suffrage upon a thoroughly good man, no matter what political party presented him as their candidate. I never, so far as I can recollect, wrote a letter in the interest of any seeker after office, nor made a public appeal in his behalf. I, however, beg the privilege of once for all departing from this lifelong rule, to say a word in behalf of an accomplished gentleman and finished scholar, who is just now a candidate for the office of judge in the orphans court of Allegheny county. I refer to the Hon. Josiah Cohen, who is at present filling that position by appointment of the governor of Pennsylvania, at the urgent solicitation of prominent citizens of this county of all shades of religious and political opinions. Those who are personally acquainted with Judge Cohen need no eulogy at my hands to influence them in his favor, knowing him as I know him, to be a lawyer of distinguished ability, refined, courteous, upright, conscientious, truthful and pure in his life and conversation. The time is not yet remote when in our own midst (and I beg the pardon of my Christian friends for calling to mind a fact which they would heartily like to forget) when the claims of a Hebrew citizen upon our suffrage would have been resented as nothing short of presumptious, feeling as we did that a Jew was entitled to no social or political recognition in our Christian community. It is even possible that one here and there of our people may not yet have outgrown this same unreasonable prejudice, though I am persuaded that they could not for the life of them afford any just explanation of it. Thank God, the old days of exclusiveness and narrowness and fanaticism are gone by forever. The habit of judging men merely from the racial standpoint, or by their lifeless creeds and barren Shemmas has become well night extinct, and our people are awakening to the fact that "a man's a man for 'a that, and 'a that."

I wish that all the people of Allegheny county knew the kind of man Josiah Cohen really is, as I have known him for many a year. They would then know how broad are his sympathies, and how he, aided by his estimable wife, has spent his life in helpful ministries amongst the needy and the unfortunate, without once stopping to inquire about their particular faith or nationality or social standing. They would know how he has always stood ready to employ his ripe scholarship and surpassing gifts of oratory and liberal-minded convictions in defense of every worthy cause that appealed to him for assistance.

We owe it to this valuable and patriotic citizen because of his many unselfish services in the community at large; we owe it as a tribute of respect to the people with whom by race and religion he is personally affiliated, the oldest and most honored of earth's aristocracies; we owe it to ourselves, irrespective of party or denominational distinctions, to return this worthy citizen to the position for which he has demonstrated his eminent fitness in the few months in which he has administered its responsible duties.

Minnesota's New Primary Law.

From the Ida Herald.

For all of the claims of the Eleventh Story league the primary election law of Minnesota has proven to be very popular with the people. It has shown a few minor defects, but these can be soon and easily remedied. The politicians don't like it very well, as they cannot control a man's vote and the expenses of a campaign is some five times as great as under the old method.

PERSONALS.

"When I left Manila a few weeks ago everything was exceptionally quiet in a business way, awaiting the return of Gov. Taft, with all the changes of administration he is expected to bring about," said First Lieut. Hamilton Foley of the Fifth cavalry, U. S. A., at the Union station last evening. Lieut. Foley was a passenger over the Pennsylvania for his home in New York on a leave of absence. "The Fifth cavalry is now stationed at Manila," he said. "It is the only mounted cavalry left in the Philippine service, the horses of all the other commands having been killed by the disease, 'surra,' which is much like the disease we know as 'blind staggers.' The veterinarians are eagerly seeking a cure for it.

"The Philippine islands are today in better shape than ever before. The constabulary is becoming more and more efficient, and it is recognized that law and order will have able keepers in this force when the regular troops are withdrawn. This police force is commanded by regular army officers and there are constant changes of station in order to prevent the formation of local interests among the men. The health of the islands is better, for cholera has been almost crushed out.

"Aguinaldo's eagerness to visit the United States has not been overestimated. I played two games of chess with him just before he was released, and since then I have had other chances to talk over his plans. He is arranging for the trip."

"Louisville feels almost as much elated as Pittsburgh over the Pirates proving two-time pennant winners," said S. P. Jones, a whisky distiller and enthusiastic baseball fan of Louisville, Ky., who was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited last evening from New York to his home. "Louisville does not forget that the principal owner, Barney Dreyfuss, Captain Clark, 'Honus' Wagner, 'Tommy' Leach and others of the winning team are old Louisvillians. It takes especial interest also from the fact that there is a strong probability that Louisville will be a member of the National league circuit next year. Tebeau's American association team at our city has come out second in that league, Indianapolis beating it by only one game. Tebeau owns the fine ball park in the center of the city, where National league games will be played next summer if our wishes are carried out."

A large party of Montgomery county officials spent last night in Pittsburgh, at the Henry, as part of a trip to see the handsome new court house at Washington, Pa. Norristown, the seat of Montgomery county, is to have a new $500,000 county building, to be constructed by the Pittsburgh contractors, William Miller & Sons. Those in the party visiting Washington yesterday were President Judge A. S. Schwartz and Associate Judges W. T. Solly and H. K. Mead, County Commissioners J. Hampton, M. C. Clemens and D. K. Graber, with J. P. Hale, solicitor for the county commissioners. Architects E. Schermerhorn and Harry L. Reinsold of Philadelphia and members of the firm of William Miller & Sons accompanied the party. Today a visit will be paid to the new court house at York, Pa.

W. T. Gray of Syracuse, N. Y., president of the Window Glass Jobbers' association, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business connected with the allotment on Wednesday of this week of 400,000 boxes of glass among the various producers.

PREPARING TO MERGE.

Officers of Federation Window Glass Meet With Concerns Formerly in Independent Combine.

Officers of the Federation Window Glass Company met with representatives of a large number of independent window glass concerns yesterday at the Hotel Henry, with the purpose of taking the first steps toward absorbing at least some of these concerns. The independents represented at the meeting were members of the Independent Window Glass Company until that company quit business a few days ago. The move to join with the Federation Company was then planned, it is said.

President J. R. Johnson, Secretary Leopold Mambourg and Treasurer W. L. Munro of the Federation Company were all present as representatives of that company. Articles of agreement had been prepared, but it was said after the meeting that there was nothing ready yet to be announced.

In the Burns faction of the window glass workers another meeting of the wage committee was held yesterday, but it was said that no settlement had yet been made with the companies, and that there were no developments looking toward peace with the Denny faction.

REVISION WINNING.

Eighteen Presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church Heard from Are All for It.

Creed revision is sweeping the Presbyterian church, the country over, and it looks as though the vote by presbyteries would be almost unanimous. Eighteen presbyteries have so far voted on the revision overtures, and every one of them has turned up solidly for the proposed changes in the creed.

In most of the presbyteries the vote was

GREEK OPENING FOR OUR STEEL NOW APPARENT

Biggest Obstacle Is Less Liberal Terms Offered by Americans.

THE BELGIANS CONCEDE LONGER CREDITS

Therefore They Carry Off the Lion's Share of the Trade in Rails, Wire and Structural Material.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 623 Fifteenth St., N. W. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25.

Frank W. Jackson, United States consul at Patras, reports to the state department, after investigation, that there is a market in Greece for American iron and steel. His report in substance says:

"The annual importation of steel wire into this district is about 2,000 tons, arriving principally during two months of the year—April and May. Belgium gets the largest share of this trade, although Germany and Servia are participators to an extent, the average price at which these countries export this wire being 20 francs ($3 86) a 100 kilograms (220.46 pounds).

"In this city there are there nail factories; in Piraeus, three, and in Volo, one. Since inquiries have come from importers interested in keeping the local factories supplied, it may be supposed that they have been investigating conditions in the light of direct transportation, which this port now enjoys with New York, and there is some ground for believing that wire may be imported from America to advantage.

"There is also, I am told, a market for iron girders and beams for building purposes, bridges, etc., to the extent of 6,000 tons or more annually. Practically the whole of this trade is controlled at present by Belgium, which has also been supplying large quantities of steel rails and construction iron for the extension of the Peloponnesus railroad to Calamata.

"Since no favored nation clause covers the importation of these materials—steel, wire and iron being on the free list—there is nothing to keep our manufacturers from competing for what trade there is, except prices and terms of sale. The latter probably will form the stumbling block rather than the former, since it is well known that our exporters are not generally disposed to give the easy terms which European countries continually grant. Four months' times is usually asked, or a discount of 3 per cent."

SHOWALTER EXPLAINS.

Gives His Version of the Nomination of Col. Huff for Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Representative Showalter, who arrived here today, gave out this version of the nomination of Col. Huff as his successor:

"The dispatch from Greensburg is incorrect in several particulars. First, the nomination was not made on Tuesday at the last minute, but was agreed upon on Monday night. I told Col. Huff, in the presence of my conferees, that I would nominate him. Up to that time he had absolutely refused to meet me in conference, and it was only after I had so informed him that he agreed to a conference. In withdrawing my name after the third ballot, I did not state that I had felt the public pulse and discovered that it was for Col. Huff. I did state that I was a loyal Republican, and realizing the equities of Westmoreland county, I withdrew my name.

"The truth is that Col. Huff has a very small following in Butler county. He only had 42 votes at the primary election out of 7,000, my majority being about 2,000 over both my competitors. Had I continued in the contest I had assurances from hundreds of Westmoreland Republicans that I would receive the regular Quay Republican vote."

THE PRESIDENT COMFORTABLE.

Doctors Persist in Opinion That He Will Be Out in Ten Days.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25.—Dr. Lung remained at the temporary White house throughout the day, attending President Roosevelt's wound. At 4 o'clock Surgeon General Rixey came over from the navy department, and after he had seen the president it was announced that President Roosevelt had passed a comfortable day, with no appreciable change in his condition. A slight rise in temperature noted during the night had disappeared.

The doctors still say the president will be confined to his room a week or 10 days, with two weeks as the outside limit.

JERUSALEM MONKS RIOT.

Squabble Over Right to Sweep Steps Lands 34 of Them in Prison.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25.—An interesting account of the singular controversy which arose between the Greek and Latin monks over the right to sweep the steps and pavement of the Church of the Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem, is contained in a report from United States Consul Merrill at Jerusalem, dated August 15.

This controversy led to a bitter personal struggle between the monks, in which a number of the participants were seriously injured. Wholesale arrests followed, and 34 monks were sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from one week to a year.

FOUR ARE KILLED BY A COLLISION

THREE OTHERS ARE HURT IN BESSEMER WRECK.

Two Heavy Ore Trains Crash Together on a Sharp Curve Near Greenville, Pa.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENVILLE, PA., Sept. 25.—Four men were killed and three injured in a wreck on the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, between Houston Junction and Pardoe, this morning.

The Dead.

J. K. MACKEY, conductor, married, Greenville.
CLARENCE BILLINGTON, engineer, married, Greenville.
CHARLES H. CASKEY, fireman, married, Greenville.
PETER LOFFI, brakeman, married, Albion, Pa.

The Injured.

WILLIAM GULLIFORD, engineer, Greenville; hips, shoulders and face injured in jumping.
JOHN STRAUSS, brakeman, Greenville; ribs broken and internal injuries that are considered dangerous.
H. K. M'LAUGHLIN, Albion; head, face and neck cut.

The collision occurred on a sharp curve, between the third section of southbound train No. 31, drawn by engines Nos. 64 and 53, and northbound train No. 34, drawn by engine 104.

Billington, Mackey and Loffi were on engine No. 64 and Caskey on engine No. 53 of the southbound train. The crew of the northbound train saw the smoke of the other train in time to stop their train and escape uninjured by jumping. They were powerless, however, to warn those on the other train. Engine No. 64, on which three of the men met their death, was thrown crosswise of the track and the force of the heavily loaded ore cars behind buried the tender on top of the boiler, pinning every man of the crew underneath.

Fireman Caskey was buried beneath the second engine of the southbound train. Help was summoned from Mercer and the bodies of all of the men were recovered before the wreck train from Greenville reached the scene. The dead and injured were taken to the Mercer hospital. Tonight the injured are all doing well and it is thought they will recover.

Besides the wrecking of the engines, 12 steel hoppers were twisted into a mass that will make them useless. It is expected that the track will be cleared and travel resumed some time tomorrow. The wreck was caused by a cross order issued for the two freight trains. At present the blame cannot be ascertained.

BOY BURGLAR CAUGHT.

John Grimm Read Dime Novels and Broke Into Store.

John H. Grimm, a 17-year-old son of F. H. Grimm, a former principal of the Turtle Creek high school, was caught in the act of robbing the cigar store of Charles Spivey early yesterday morning by Chief of Police William Hall.

Chief of Police Hall was passing the store shortly after midnight and saw some person inside the building at the cash register. The fellow in the store discovered the officer and made a dash for liberty through the open door, but was captured. A revolver and a dime novel were found on his person. He was given a hearing before Justice James McClintic yesterday and held for court on charges of robbery and house breaking.

Students Graduated.

A class of eight students was graduated yesterday from the School of Domestic Arts, Forbes and Halket streets, Oakland. This is the largest class to graduate since the school was opened in 1900. The graduation exercises were held at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning and consisted of several addresses. Mrs. Leonuel Call Barnes, the chairman of the service department of the Domestic Arts association, under whose direction the school is conducted, spoke on the "Ethical Value of Cooking," Miss Gwendolyn Stewart, the new principal of the school, made a short address and short talks were given by Miss Catherine Christian and Miss Catherine Hughes. During the morning there was an exhibit and sale of food prepared by the department of home delicacies for the sick. Announcement was also made that small luncheons and dinners will be served to those families or persons desiring them. During the morning Mrs. J. L. Anderson was added to the board of directors.

Yesterday's graduates were: Miss Clara Grace Angerstein, Miss Emma L. Dye, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Mary Furey, Miss Jessie Shearer, Miss Mary E. Quinn, Miss Amelia Hirshey and Miss Jennie Townsend.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER.

He Cured Himself of Nervous Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man with large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking. I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends often advised me to try a well known proprietary medicine. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and took two or three tablets each meal and occasionally a tablet between meals, when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the tablets contained and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin (government test), malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

BIRDSALL WINS SHOES VACATED BY HENDERSON

Nominated for Congress to Succeed Speaker in Third Iowa District.

STATE TARIFF PLANK IS EXPLAINED

Is Not Intended to Say That Tariff Fosters Trusts, but Only Emphasizes St. Louis Platform. Henderson Praised.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Hampton, Ia., Sept. 25.—Judge B. P. Birdsall of Clarion was nominated for congress today by the Third district Republican convention. The nomination was made on the second ballot by a vote of 88 to 26 for C. E. Ransir of Buchanan.

The Third district at present is represented by Speaker Henderson, who recently declined a renomination. The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted today as follows:

We, the representatives of the Republicans of the Third congressional district of Iowa, heartily indorse the platform of principles adopted by the late Republican state convention at Des Moines. We deny that the Dingley tariff breeds and shelters trusts. We interpret the tariff plank in the Des Moines platform of 1902 to be merely a reiteration of and to mean no more than the St. Louis plank of 1896, which recited: "We are not pledged to any particular schedules. The question of rates is a practical question to be governed by the conditions of the times and of production. The ruling and uncompromising principle is the protection and development of American labor and industry."

We cordially recognize and earnestly commend the patriotic fervor of President Roosevelt, and the wisdom of both the foreign and domestic policies of his administration, which are adding constantly to the high reputation of the nation abroad and the prosperity of the people at home.

We most earnestly regret the declination of the renomination which the Republicans of this district for the eleventh time unanimously tendered the Hon. D. B. Henderson. No official has been more anxious to keep in touch with and faithfully represent the well-considered judgment of his constituents than has Col. Henderson during all the long years of his congressional career. We have faith in his patriotism and his personal and political integrity. We are conscious of his great mental power and ability. We realize his superb leadership and commanding influence in governmental affairs and believe that his withdrawal means a great loss to the people.

D. C. Glasser of Dubuque resigned as chairman of the congressional committee and George E. Wright of Eagle Grove was elected to fill the vacancy.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." That is the way with a Cold. A few little doses of Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant often saves a long sickness, if not something more serious.

Today's League Games.

New York at Philadelphia.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 25.—The National League representatives got down to work early today. Those present were John T. Brush, who presided; Andrew Freedman and Fred Knowles, New York; A. H. Soden, Boston; Barney Dreyfuss and Harry Pulliam, Pittsburg; Harry Von Der Horst, Ned Hanlon and Charles Ebbetts, Brooklyn; Col. John I. Rogers and A. J. Reach, Philadelphia; James Hart, Chicago; Max Fleischmann and August Herr, Cincinnati. F. DeHass Robinson of St. Louis was not at the meeting. The new developments in the American league situation were taken up at once.

At the conclusion of the session, which lasted until a late hour of the afternoon, John T. Brush said:

"We spent the entire session in a general discussion of the situation and not a single action was taken that would interest the public. As a matter of fact our hands are tied in certain respects and we can do nothing in the line of what the public expects."

Mr. Brush admitted that the magnates had discussed the situation regarding New York, but he also admitted that his followers were completely baffled so far as taking any action was concerned.

According to James A. Hart of Chicago there is absolutely no chance of peace between the two big leagues next summer.

"Peace?" repeated Mr. Hart, in answer to a question, "there is no chance of it. There certainly have been no advances made by the other side and none by us. The American league, to my mind, does not want peace just at present. They will never be satisfied until they have placed teams in both New York and Pittsburgh. Then they think they will be able to talk terms to the major league."

Mr. Hart declared that the situation as to players had been gone over carefully and that the public would be surprised when they learned how few players would jump their contracts this year on either side.

Manager McGraw arrived in the city from his western trip. He declared he had engaged two American league stars for his team next year. He refused to give the players' names.

James C. Kennedy is quoted as saying that he will be manager of an American league team in this city next year, adding that the American league had options on two pieces of ground in the city.

Manager McGraw of the Giants, when asked to make a statement, replied: "I may say that I have signed one of the best players in the American league on this last visit. Beyond that I cannot go, as I have pledged myself to mention no names until after the American league season is finished."

"What about Mathewson and Bowerman?"

"You can say that the arrangements between both men and the New York club are perfectly satisfactory."

Both men will play in New York next year. This information did not come from McGraw, but from the same source in St. Louis that induced the players to open negotiations with the club in that city.

Dahlen, the Brooklyn shortstop, has jumped that team and signed with the Detroit management for next summer. Dahlen gives as his reason that the Brooklyn owners negotiated with other players without approaching him to sign a contract. He felt slighted.

Strang, who played with New York in 1901, will be with Brooklyn in 1903.

The only club in the National league that is making any plan for peace is that at Philadelphia. Little sympathy is expressed for Col. Rogers, however, as his refusal to engage Lajoie not only lost him thousands of dollars, but entailed a loss upon the league as a body of not less than $100,000.

OLD PIMLICO TRACK.

It Has Likely Seen Its Last as a Race Course.

BALTIMORE, MD., Sept. 25.—Attorney General Isidor Rayner today instituted suit in Towson for the sale of "Old Dixie," the famous Pimlico race track and grounds near this city. Defendants to the suit are the Maryland Agricultural and Mechanical association, the mayor and city council of Baltimore and the Pimlico Driving club.

The annual fairs have been discontinued and the grounds have passed successively into the hands of the Maryland Jockey club and the Pimlico Driving club. Baltimore city has a claim of $25,000 and former governor Frank Brown holds a mechanics lien claim against the property.

COLLEGE TEAMS ARE SURE TO MEET

WASH.-JEFF AND STATE ELEVEN ARE TO CLASH.

Teams Will Come Together on November 15, but Thanksgiving Day Game Is Called Off.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 25.—Manager W. R. Craig of the Washington & Jefferson football team received word today from the management of the State College eleven saying that State would play W. & J. at Washington on Saturday, November 15. Whether or not the game scheduled with State for Thanksgiving will be played is yet an unsettled question, but it is likely that the local team will have some other opponent, as the management of both teams are unwilling to play the same team twice in a season. When State comes to Washington this fall it will be the first time the teams have met since 1899, when a game at State College ended in a riot, in which the W. & J. team was stoned by the spectators. The rivalry is very strong.

Very little football work could be done by the candidates for the W. & J. team at College park this afternoon owing to a heavy rain which continued for the greater part of the day. It had been the intention of Coach Greene to have the 'varsity and scrub teams face each other in the first practice game of the season this afternoon, but owing to the poor condition of the grounds he did not have a practice game. There is but one day more for practice before the opening game with the California State Normal school on Saturday, and it is feared that the players will not be in the best shape for this game. Fortunately, it is expected that it will not be a hard contest for the local collegians, or some alarm would be felt as to the outcome.

In the practice yesterday and today Tinker, who only came out for practice the beginning of the week, is showing up strongly as a candidate for quarterback. This position was greatly weakened by the absence of Capt. Alkon of last year's team, and it has been hard to develop a good man for the place. Tinker is an Ohio boy and formerly played the quarterback position for the University of Ohio team at Athens, O. He handles himself well and it is believed that he will make good on the local team. Park J. Alexander of Bridgeport, O., a former fullback on the local team, who has been assisting Greene in coaching the college men, left this evening for Cambridge, Mass., where he will resume his studies in the Harvard law school. It is probable that some other former member of the W. & J. team will be secured in Alexander's place to coach the back field candidates.

The bank clerks of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings will hold a meeting on next Monday evening to organize a hockey team for the season, and the following players are requested to report: C. M. Hamilton, H. G. Owens, C. Carter, J. A. D. A. Donahoe, John Lynch, D. W. Jones, W. J. Jones, Henry Belmont and Harris Mashinney. With the above named candidates the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings will make all banks and trust companies hustle for victory. For games, address W. J. Jones, Pittsburgh Bank for Savings.

The manager of the Millvale Juniors disputes the claim of the Imperials or any other 13-year-old team being the champions of their class. The Millvale Juniors played 28 games, of which they won 25, a percentage of .850. They have defeated the Imperials four times, which puts them in the lead. They have been defeated by the Wagner Juniors, which is a 17-year-old team. They have defeated such teams as the Imperials, Southern A. C., P. A. C. of Verona, Cremans (second team, Ingram Juniors, W. T. Wyers, Mt. Junior, Valley A. C. and the Ready Reds, which also claims the championship. As to the Imperials claiming the championship, the Juniors wish to say that they have defeated them in superior four times, which is enough to satisfy them that they cannot play ball with the Millvale Juniors.

Will Have Roller Polo League.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—Cincinnati, Dayton, Hamilton, Ohio, Rockford, Ill.; Indianapolis, Elwood, Anderson, Richmond and Muncie, Ind., will be the cities chosen as representatives in the Western Roller Polo association. A meeting will be held at Muncie tomorrow to decide the matter.

THE CHAMPIONS HAD TO FIGHT FOR THIS GAME

Worcester Team Gave Them Lively Run for the Victory.

PITCHER FALKENBURG IS SIGNED

He Held the Pirates Down to Seven Hits and Looks Like a Good One—All Scores Were Made in the First Inning.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 25.—Pittsburgh and Worcester Eastern league team figured in a game today that was a brilliant battle after the first inning, in which all the runs were scored. Slovenly fielding by the locals gave the National leaguers three runs before the performance had gotten well under way. Then Pittsburgh bunged enough to allow the locals to score twice.

When the players entered upon the second inning one of the finest exhibitions ever shown here began. Fielding features were piled high and a small, but pleased crowd benefited. Sebring, secured from Wagneser, received a splendid reception. George Merritt, who has been working with the locals all season, rejoined the Pirates tonight.

Fred Falkenberg, the twirler who defeated Pittsburgh with Chesbro up in June, was signed by Secretary Harry Pulliam before the champions left for North Adams, the home of Jack Chesbro. Falkenberg is a former University of Illinois student and team mate of Lundgren, the Chicago National pitcher. He was secured by Worcester at the close of the last college season. He is a right-hander and has splendid control. He is more than six feet tall and weighs about 175 pounds. He will join Pittsburgh in the spring. His release was purchased from the local club.

In the opening inning Beaumont's grounder got away from Madison and Beaumont reached first. Burke hit into right field and Merritt let the ball get away from him. Beaumont scored, while Burke got around to third. Leach struck out. Wagner's grounder was fumbled by Madison and another run came in. Wagner stole second and scored when Sebring rapped one along left field foul line. Ritchey was thrown out at first on a grounder to Madison. Conroy struck out. In the locals' half Frisbee rushed a single into left field. He was forced out at second on Clancy's hunt to Leever. Sam fielding the ball to Conroy. Merritt hit to Ritchey and Clancy threw poorly to Conroy in an attempt to force a man out at the second sack. Delehanty hit to the pitcher and a throw to Burke nipped Clancy at third base. Rickert was passed on balls and the bases filled, when Steelman's grounder was booted by Leever. Merritt tallied. Delehanty came in when Conroy fumbled the grounder sent out by Wrigley. Madison struck out. Delehanty, Wrigley and Frisbee made sensational fielding plays that cut down the champions. Ritchey made two grand steps and throws. In the last six innings only two hits were made off Falkenberg, and he was effective at all times. Score:

Liggett Beaten in Semi-Final, While C. B. McVay, Jr., Defaulted.

Schedule for Tomorrow.

The final match in the handicap play for the golf cups offered by F. M. Hutchinson and R. F. Kevin, Jr., will be decided this afternoon on the Edgeworth course at Sewickley, between W. H. Haines and Chester H. McVay. Yesterday afternoon Haines, with a handicap of two strokes, defeated S. S. Liggett by a score of four up and three to play, while C. B. McVay, Jr., who was forced to leave the city on business, defaulted to his younger brother, Chester McVay. In the final today Haines will have a handicap of four strokes over McVay.

The qualifying round for women members for the cup offered by Mrs. C. B. McVay was postponed on account of the weather and will be played if possible this afternoon. The Edgeworth club announces the postponement of the tournament for the cup offered by Miss Lucy Christy from October 8 to October 11.

The Country club is out with announcements for another heavy program for the strong nine-hole course on the Beechwood boulevard. The first contest for junior members of the club will be started with an 18-hole qualifying round, in which eight will be eligible for the handicap match play on October 4. The cup is offered by E. H. Brainard. There will also be 28 holes under handicap for a cup offered by J. M. Jenkinson, to go to the lowest net score, while the second 18-hole handicap competition for the Wilbur Schenk cup, first played for last Saturday, will be in order. A handicap sweepstakes will also be played.

BEST MATINEE HORSES WILL BE MATCHED

Some Great Sport Is Promised at Brunot Island Track Tomorrow.

If the weather conditions prove half favorable there will be matinee races on the Brunot Island track on Saturday afternoon which will be worth seeing.

As it is getting towards the end of the season the race committee has decided to put into action all the talent down there, with the result that the Saturday afternoon program will not only be larger than usual, but will bring the best horses together. The committee in making up the program has considered the work shown by the horses this year and matched them accordingly.

One event alone which will be worth the journey is the second, in which the well-known matinee trotters Senator K., or Louise Mac, Joe Watts' Josephine Dixon, who lowered the track record last week, and Guy will go against each other. Another event not to be overlooked is the sixth, in which the well-known pacers Shasta, Perkells and Tewksbury will take part. Rocereto and his band will also be on hand to enliven the occasion. The excellence of the sport may be judged from the following program:

Event No. 1, trotting—Crescent, b. g.; Westwood, br. g.; John Webb, g. g.; Gogo, ch. g.

Event No. 2, trotting—Rubber, bl. m.; Senator K., blk. g. or Louise Mac, ch. m.; Joe Watts, ch. s.; Josephine Dixon, b. m.; Guy, ch. h.

SHADY SIDE PLAYS EAST LIBERTY TODAY

Opening Game of the Season for the Two Schools—E. L. A. Expects to Be Strong This Year.

The Shady Side academy and East Liberty academy school elevens will play their first football contest of the season this afternoon on the Shady Side grounds, Morewood avenue. The Shady Side team will have to be largely developed from new material this season, as but three of the old players have returned. The outcome of the game will, therefore, be watched with interest.

The East Liberty academy boys expect to make a stronger record this season than ever before. They have good facilities for training at their new school building, though the school has not yet secured regular grounds. The boys are being coached by Prof. Unger of East Liberty academy, who is an experienced ex-college player.

THE MUD LARKS HAD GREAT DAY AT GRAVESCEND

Track Was a Quagmire and the Going Was Very Rough.

DRAKE HIT THE BOOKS A HARD BLOW

The Filly Trinity Bell Won the Fifth Event and He Had Lots of Cash on It—Old England Won the Handicap.

[ST. ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 25.—The mud larks had an inning at Gravesend today. The heavy rain of last night and today converted the track into a quagmire. The card, which when made up was good, was ruined, the owners fearing to risk their horses in the sloppy going.

The Parkville handicap, which was the feature event, had originally 13 entries, but only four faced the starter. Old England, fresh from his trip from Buffalo, won easily from the favorite, Whisky King. The fourth event also suffered, eight of the 10 entries being scratched. Sombrero, at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 8, had only to gallop to beat the 2-year-old Examiner.

John A. Drake hit the ring heavily over the victory of his filly, Trinity Bell, in the fifth race. Four favorites won. Summaries:

First race, for two-year-olds, handicap, about six furlongs—Molly Brant, 114, Odom, 8 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; River Pirate, 116, Shaw, 9 to 2 and 8 to 5, second; Nevermore, 109, Lyne, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:11 3-5. Tescan, Mart Mullen, Illyria, Sentinel and *Fire Eater also ran.

RAIN SPOILED RACES.

Beaver Falls Events Go Over—Gambler Given the Chase.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Sept. 25.—[Special.]—The third day of the fair of the Beaver County Agricultural society was a bitter disappointment to the management. Owing to the rain of last night the track was in such a condition that no attempt was made at racing. The association has decided to hold the fair on Saturday, although Friday was scheduled as the closing day. The attendance today reached several thousand.

Today the College Hill borough authorities, acting under orders from the Beaver court, it is said, made 107 arrests on the gamblers on the grounds, and drove them out, bag and baggage. They had been reaping a rich harvest.

Races Again Postponed.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., Sept. 25.—The grand circuit trotting races have been postponed until tomorrow on account of rain.

RED HOT BOUT BETWEEN TWO FINE AMATEURS

Harry Brown, the 105-Pound Champion, Was Given the Decision.

"TOUGH" ROGAN TOOK GOOD POUNDING

Soho Fighter Made Lively First Round of It, but After That He Was All In—Two Lively Preliminaries Were Fought.

Three good boxing bouts were pulled off at the smoker given last night by the Knoxville Athletic association in Turner hall, Allentown. The affair was advertised to take place on last Monday evening and was postponed, as some of the fighters could not be on hand. For this reason the crowd last night was a small one. The management had been warned by Supt. McAleese that good order must be preserved and no cheering was permitted.

The principal bout of the evening was a four-round go between Harry Brown of Allegheny, who won the 105-pound amateur championship two years ago, and "Tough" Rogan of Pittsburgh. For preliminaries Ward and Ault, two youngsters, and Bill Reardon and Jim Doyle, were matched. The boys fought four rounds to a draw and got a round of applause. Neither seemed to have the necessary steam to bring things to a climax and the decision was satisfactory to all.

The Soho Crowd Was There.

Reardon and Doyle were late in arriving and the main bout came off next. Rogan hails from Soho and had with him a large following. It was his first appearance against a good man and he manifested some nervousness. Brown was about 15 pounds lighter than his opponent, but much more clever with his mitts.

In the first round both started in with a rush and mixed up in a lively fashion. Rogan appeared somewhat wild and was unable to block the clever jabs that Brown sent into his jaw. In the first few seconds of the round Rogan got a stiff one in the face that sent him to the floor. This sobered him a bit and for the rest of the round he fought cautiously. He finished strong.

In the first mix up of the second round Rogan found Brown's jaw with a punch that put the Allegheny lad on the mat. He came up instantly, however, and began to punish Rogan severely. The bell saved the Soho boy in this round, as he was staggering and fighting blindly at the finish.

The third round was Brown's, too. Rogan started in to finish things, but little Brown ducked cleverly and landed some good ones that had the other man guessing. Both men were fighting on the offensive and when the bell sounded Rogan was on the verge of collapse. One more punch from Brown would have ended the fight, but the latter somehow couldn't get there.

Failed to Land Knockout.

It looked when the last round started that Brown would score a knockout, as Rogan was bleeding at the nose and was evidently in distress. Brown disappointed his friends in this round, as he fought stupidly and twice when he could have finished the battle with one punch he failed to follow up his man. But Rogan had gone almost to the limit when time was called, as he was fighting for wind and playing on the defensive. Referee Jack McClelland gave the decision to Brown. After the fight Rogan's manager challenged Brown to fight for any amount at 129 pounds.

The bout between Reardon and Doyle was a good one, for both men seemed to be out for blood. Doyle did some clever work all through the fight and could have won the decision had he forced matters. Reardon did all the leading and took a lot of punishment. Both men finished strong and the bout was called a draw. McClelland announced at the finish that his fight with Calahan of Toronto had been postponed from October 3 to October 16.

THE ALLEGHENY BOXER QUIT IN SIXTH ROUND

Gerwig Had Rushed Bowser To the Ropes, Then Refused To Continue Fighting.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Sept. 25.—An audience that filled almost every chair in the spacious auditorium of the Nonpareil A. C. house at this place witnessed the bout between Charley Gerwig of Allegheny and Mull Bowser of Natrona tonight. The bout was scheduled for 10 rounds, but did not go the limit.

The men weighed in at 144 pounds, and both appeared in the best of condition and confident. From the first it was seen that Bowser was the more experienced. Gerwig fought wild, and many of his heaviest blows landed in the air. Bowser, however, made every blow tell and used better ring generalship all along than his antagonist.

The first round ended with honors even. The second round was Bowser's. Both men fought hard and the spectators could not complain that they were not getting their money's worth. The fourth round was a hot one; it was give and take from start to finish. Bowser had a little the best of it, however, and landed some telling blows. In this round Gerwig went down and took the count, but it was evidently due to sain wind, for when he arose he fought like a demon and beat Bowser up against the ropes until he clinched. This was anybody's round.

The sixth round opened up with both men apparently strong and both were fighting wickedly, when all at once Gerwig dropped his hands after about a minute's fighting, walked in his corner and quit, to the great surprise of everybody, as he was uninjured, appeared to be strong, and had just rushed Bowser to the ropes with a succession of hot blows. The decision was given to Bowser. Lawrence Lutz then had it announced that he would box the winner at 138 pounds at the ringside for $150 a side in October.

The preliminaries were four rounds between Wilson of Beaver Falls and Newman of Rochester. Wilson was no match in size or weight with his antagonist and the bout was tame. The affair passed off in the most orderly and quiet manner. Neither man in the principal bout showed any signs of punishment.

POSTOFFICE FUND AND WIFE MISSING

Handsome Erie Woman Arrested For Robbery Had Eloped With Another.

Mrs. Catherine Bell of Erie, handsome and educated, was committed to the Allegheny county jail last night on a charge of robbing a postoffice by United States Commissioner William T. Lindsey. She is alleged to have taken $86 of the receipts of the office of which her husband was postmaster, to elope with William Harris of Erie. She went with Harris to Saginaw, Mich., where she was arrested and brought back and then arraigned before Commissioner Lindsey.

The young woman is well known in Erie. With her husband she kept a dry goods store in one of the adjoining townships, and a sub-station of the Erie postoffice was located there. She became infatuated with young Harris and eloped with him about three weeks ago.

It was discovered after she had left that $86 of the postoffice receipts were missing. The postoffice authorities were notified and she was arrested in Saginaw with young Harris. Her husband was distressed over the action of his wife and refused to aid her in any way. When she arrived at the jail last night she was broken-hearted over her indiscretion and said that she greatly regretted leaving her husband. She is 24 years old.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY CASE IS ON TRIAL HERE

Ex-Lieut. Gov. Latta Inquiring Into the Sanity of Clara Tomer.

HAS PROPERTY VALUED AT $25,000

Issue Which Judge McClung Refused to Hear, Denying He Had Jurisdiction, Has Had Many Curious Features.

A hearing was held yesterday before Ex-Lieutant Governor Latta of Greensburg as commissioner in the inquiry into the mental condition of Miss Clara Tomer. It was necessary to carry Miss Tomer to and from her carriage.

Miss Tomer possesses property worth about $25,000, all in this county. Years ago she was adjudged insane, as she claims without notice of the proceedings, and a sister was appointed her committee. The sister died and another sister, Mrs. Mary F. Snively, was named in her stead. The latter is 81 years old, and a short time ago she resigned as committee, and the Safe Deposit and Trust Company was named.

Recently there was presented in common pleas court No. 5 a petition in behalf of Miss Tomer, claiming that she had recovered her reason and asking that the committee be discharged. As the original proceedings were in Westmoreland county, Judge McClung decided he did not have jurisdiction. The petition was then presented in Westmoreland, and ex-Lieut.-Gov. Latta was named commissioner. At yesterday's hearing the testimony referred to Miss Tomer's conversations. The hearing was continued until next Thursday.

HAD BLOODY FIGHT

Italian Convicted of Cutting Another's Throat—Broderick Guilty of Manslaughter.

Christ Donatelli and Frank Bucci were on trial yesterday before Judge Stowe on charges of felonious assault and battery committed on each other. On June 25 Bucci was found in his home in Laurel avenue with his throat cut. Donatelli was found in a house a few doors away with his wrist almost severed.

Bucci testified he went home from work early in the morning and found his house with blinds drawn. When he tried to enter he was cut by Donatelli, who rushed out of the house. Mrs. Bucci, who was in the house at the time, said her husband cut his own throat with a hatchet after attacking Donatelli with the same instrument. Donatelli was convicted of simple assault and battery, while Bucci was acquitted.

The jury in the murder case against John Broderick returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter for the killing of William Larkin.

Wassil Gapicheck was convicted of the larceny of 23 rings valued at $20 from the store of Charles Hoffman in Carnegie.

The following were acquitted: Maggie Martin, selling liquor without license; John Bridsky, selling liquor without license; Henry Darcus, assault and battery; Thomas McElhose, larceny and larceny by bailee; E. F. Stone, larceny.

John Yertosch, John and Andrew Koverman pleaded guilty to assault and battery. John Kuley pleaded guilty to an escape from the workhouse and was sentenced to complete his unexpired term of 90 days with 60 days additional.

Kahn Appointed Receiver.

Judge Buffington, in the United States district court, yesterday appointed Lenard Kahn receiver of the J. C. Bartlett Company, stove and range manufacturers. THE wedding of Miss Carolyn Frick Siedle, daughter of Adolph E. Siedle of Ellipsy street, and James Joseph Leahy, took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the Church of the Sacred Heart, in Center avenue, East End. It was a large wedding, 600 invitations having been issued for the ceremony at the church, but the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents was limited to the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and the bridegroom. The bridal party preceding the bride to the altar, where she was met by the bridegroom, was large and consisted of the maid of honor, the bride's sister, Miss Gertrude Siedle, and four bridesmaids, Miss Marie Binias, Miss Lulu Naser, Miss Geraldine Glynn and Mrs. W. Stuart Brown; two little flower girls, Pauline and Virginia Siedle, little sisters of the bride, and the ushers, William H. Leahy, a brother of the bridegroom, J. Stuart Brown, Snowden G. Lennox, William Ralph Hughes, John Paul Garthig and Albert J. Loeffler, a cousin of the bride. Patrick M. Leahy, another brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

The wedding colors were pink and white. There was a simple arrangement of tall palms and wide-spreading ferns at the church. The house was elaborately decorated in pink and white roses, with a background of ferns and smilax. The bride wore a beautiful wedding robe of rose pointe lace over cream white duchess satin. It was fashioned with a full court train. The bridal veil of tulle, edged with lace, was fastened with ostrich tips and a diamond brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. The gown worn by the maid of honor was of sheer white material over white taffeta silk, the bridesmaids also wearing gowns of white mousseline over white taffeta. The attending maids each wore half length veils of tulle, fastened with tiny ostrich tips. The bridal bouquet was of white kaiserine roses and illies of the valley. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of white roses, while the bridesmaids carried bouquets of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Leahy left last night on their wedding trip. They will make their future home in the East End. Mr. Leahy is a member of the real estate firm, Leahy Brothers.

Annual Reception at the Home.

The managers of the Home for Aged Protestant Women held their annual reception yesterday, at the institution in Wilkinsburg. The hours were from 2 until 5 o'clock, and though the rain kept away many who had intended visiting the home, the house was well filled and the reception was successful, both socially and financially. The guests were received by the officers of the board, Mrs. Samuel McKee, president; Mrs. Thomas Mellon and Mrs. Samuel Fulton, vice presidents; Mrs. Harry W. Bickel secretary, and Miss Mary L. Jackson, treasurer, assisted by the other members of the board of managers. Tables were arranged for a display of needlework and other attractive articles, the sale of which netted about $200. Many handsome donations of money, provisions and needful articles were made.

There are now 68 inmates in the Home and there is a growing waiting list. Though more room is needed, no plan has been made for an enlargement of the institution, this present year because of the smallness of the endowment fund. During the past year many of the rooms were newly carpeted and refurnished. A handsome iron fence, the gift of a prominent member of the board of managers, was erected about the grounds and new walks were laid.

In addition to the officers already mentioned, the board of managers includes Mrs. Jane Gorman, Mrs. James W. Scott, Mrs. Samuel Shadwick, Miss Bradley, Miss Matilda Smith, Mrs. Edwin Stowe, Mrs. George Lauder, Mrs. Samuel Fleiner, Mrs. Samuel Holmes, Mrs. Alexander Speer, Miss Annie Thurston, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. E. M. Bigelow, Mrs. Alexander Nock, Mrs. Heberton Negley, Mrs. James A. Grier, Mrs. Alexander Watson, Mrs. Thomas McConnell, Mrs. A. J. Franklin, Mrs. Stephen McCandless, Mrs. Alexander King, Mrs. Dallas Irish and Mrs. Durbin Horne.

Rist—Carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry La Mertine Carpenter were in Pittsburgh for a few hours yesterday, before starting on a wedding trip through the west. They were married on Wednesday evening, in Vanderbilt. The bride was Miss Lola Maude Rist, eldest daughter of N. A. Rist, one of the prominent coke operators in the Connellsville region. The bridegroom is a young traveling man, formerly of Meadville, but recently located in Connellsville.

The wedding took place at 8 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church at Vanderbilt, the pastor, the Rev. W. J. Lowstetter, reading the marriage ceremony. The church was decorated in green. The wedding guests included friends of the bride and bridegroom from Pittsburgh, Meadville, Uniontown and Chattanooga, Tenn. The bride was given away by her father, and her attendants included her sister, Miss Rose Rist, a student at Allegheny college, who was the maid of honor; little Miss Clarissa Wilson of Pittsburgh, the flower girl, and Master Donald Rist, ring bearer. Otis Carpenter was the best man, and the ushers were Roy Rist, Fred Rist of Charleston, W. Va.; Phil C. Moon and Jackson Wertz. The bride wore a gown of white satin crepe de chine, trimmed with duchess lace. Her veil was fastened with a pearl crescent, the gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore white silk crepe over pink taffeta, trimmed with medallions of duchess lace. Her flowers were pink roses. The little flower girl was daintily dressed in a frock of pink liberty silk, accordion pleated, and the small page appeared in a court costume of white satin. The wedding at the church was followed by a large reception and supper. Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, after their return from the west, will make their home in Connellsville.

Lowentritt—DeRoy.

A large party of Pittsburgh friends attended the wedding of Miss Helen S. Lowentritt and Dr. Aaron DeRoy of this city, which took place in Oil City on Wednesday evening. The marriage ceremony was performed at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rachael Lowentritt, by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy of Pittsburgh. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Lowentritt, as maid of honor, and Samuel DeRoy, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The gowns of the bride and her maid of honor were very handsome. The bridal gown was of white crepe de chine, trimmed with point lace, with veil of tulle and lace. The maid of honor wore white crepe de chine over pink silk, with trimmings of hand painted chiffon. The house was decorated with a profusion of palms and smilax. After the ceremony dinner was served in large pavilion erected on the lawn. Later a large reception, lasting from 9 o'clock until 12, was held, the wedding guests having been limited to the relatives. Dr. DeRoy and his bride left yesterday morning on a trip through eastern cities. They will return to Pittsburgh in a couple of weeks and will live at "The Lamont," Spahr street, East End, where they will be at home Thursdays.

Among the Pittsburgh guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac DeRoy, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeRoy, Dr. and Mrs. DeRoy, Mr. and Mrs. J. VanAllen, Samuel DeRoy, Emanuel DeRoy, Harry DeRoy, Mrs. Abram DeRoy, Mrs. M. Michel, H. Smith, L. Rosenthall and Rabbi J. Leonard Levy.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hood of Elders Ridge, on Wednesday, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage. A reception was held at their home at which nearly 150 friends and relatives gathered, many of them traveling long distances to be present. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock and was followed by addresses delivered by the Rev. Mr. Ralston, the Rev. C. B. Kelly, the Rev. A. T. Hall, the Hon. M. S. Lemon, Mrs. Laura Bell and Dr. Cass. Mrs. T. B. Elder read a poem.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood have lived their entire married life upon the old Hood farm, in Elders Ridge, and there their children have grown up, attending the historic Elders Ridge academy and later marrying and leaving the old homestead. Mr. and Mrs. Hood have had eight children, of whom six are living. They are Mrs. Mary A. McMurray of Washington, Pa., Mrs. Dr. McCullough of Carnegie, Pa., the Rev. Robert H. Hood, a United Presbyterian pastor in Pittsburgh, the Rev. Harry L. Hood, pastor of the Hookstown United Presbyterian church, Beaver county, Pa., John F. Hood, whose farm adjoins the old homestead, and T. Cree Hood, who, with his wife and little daughter, makes his home with his father and mother. There are four grandchildren, two girls and two boys.

Boyd-Lake.

A tradition handed down from generation to generation, for over a century, by members of the old St. Clair United Presbyterian church at Mount Lebanon, was cast aside last evening, when the soft strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding march gave forth the announcement that a marriage ceremony had been performed within the house of worship. That the bride, Miss Jean Hunter Boyd, daughter of the Rev. J. C. Boyd, D. D., who has presided over the Mt. Lebanon flock for the past 34 years, and the groom, Dr. George Cheeseman Lake, son of one of the oldest members and elders in the congregation, should be the first couple to break over the old custom, was thought to be exceedingly fitting by the church members, who attended the ceremony in a body.

The church stands on a prominence and is surrounded by a green lawn, dotted with trees, that have stood scores of years. The wedding party, leaving the residence of the bride's father, passed over the lawn and entered the church by the front entrance. The pulpit was nearly hidden by a bower of palms set off at the base by ferns. The Rev. J. C. Boyd, father of the bride, performed the ceremony. It was witnessed by 250 guests, including the entire congregation of the church.

The bride was attended by Miss Myra Boyd, a sister, as maid of honor; Miss Hallie Schreiner, Miss Camilla Wallace, and Miss Lois Boyd, another sister, as bridesmaids. Samuel Lake, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Dr. Charles Carroll of Coraopolis, Dr. F. Neff Myers of Allegheny, Robert McConnell of Pittsburgh, and Walter R. Lindsey, uncle of the bride. The wedding party returned to the home of the bride's father where about 75 guests were assembled. Mr. and Mrs. Lake will take no wedding tour at present, but will go to their new home in Aspinwall. The groom resides at Castle Shannon, but has a medical practice in this city.

Fifty-Four Years Wedded.

The Rev. Samuel Collins, D. D., and Mrs. Collins, yesterday celebrated the 54th anniversary of their marriage. Because of the ill health of Mrs. Collins the observance was quietly conducted. For over a quarter of a century Dr. Collins and his wife have been prominently identified with church and charitable work in Western Pennsylvania. They were married in 1848, in Hanover, Ind. Mrs. Collins was Miss Jane S. Taylor. Born in Xenia, O., in 1821, last Tuesday being been his birthday anniversary, Dr. Collins was raised on a farm and received his early education in the country schools. He graduated in 1842 from Franklin college, Athens, O., afterward attending the theological seminary at Canonsburg, Pa., and was licensed to preach July 1, 1846. For 11 years he was engaged in missionary work in Wisconsin. In 1862 he became pastor of a United Presbyterian church in Madison, Ind., where he remained seven years, a year later he became business manager of the United Presbyterian board of missions in Pittsburgh, occupying that position for 12 years. He then served several churches as pastor and 16 years ago was called to the church in New Alexandria, where he has served every since, going regularly to the charge every Saturday and remaining until early in the following week. For 25 years Dr. Collins has been president of the board of trustees of the general assembly of his church.

Mrs. Collins was for many years a strong factor in church and temperance work in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. While in the west she was actively interested in education, an interest which she has felt no less deep since coming to Pittsburgh to live. Dr. and Mrs. Collins came to Pittsburgh to make their home in 1868. Half of the time they lived in Pittsburgh and the last 16 years in Allegheny.

A Golden Wedding.

An event of unusual interest and importance in the Beaver valley, was the celebration, by Mr. and Mrs. John R. The home was simply but prettily decorated in yellow roses, goldenrod and the fall flowers. In the conservatory where the musicists were stationed, being especially attractive. The bride of 50 years ago wore a pretty gown of white mousseline.

ROUMANIA STOPS JEW EMIGRATION TO THE STATES

Secretary Hay's Note Gives Only Momentary Relief to Oppressed People.

TALKED ABOUT YANKEE ARROGANCE

Government Laughed at Attitude of America Until It Learned That England Had Taken Steps in Support of United States.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Berlin, Sept. 25.—The Tageblatt today prints a letter from Bucharest, capital of Roumania, dated September 22, as follows:

"The Washington note came like a ray of sunshine from a stormcloud for the Jewish population, especially the laboring classes, who conceived the hope that a favorable turn must result from the interference of mighty America. How naive these unhappy people are, eagerly reaching for any straw promising the rescue.

"But their jubilation has been of short duration. The only effect the American note has had so far is an order, according to the Roumanian newspapers, that no more emigration passports be issued without the usual tax of $4. It is even reported that no emigration passports will be granted.

"The spirit of the government is: 'We are masters here.' Nevertheless, it is disposed to be polite and considerate toward the United States. It intends to show this by preventing emigration to the United States.

"There is much talk here about 'Yankee arrogance.' They laughed in their sleeves so long as the American note was without European support. But the news that England had followed with a similar step caused vexation. If the continental powers act jointly it is possible that the Roumanian Jewish question may become acute. But the government has had much experience in meeting protests in behalf of the Jews."

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Secretary Hay's note to the powers on the subject of Roumania's treatment of Jews, of which slight notice was at first taken, under the impression that it would lead to nothing, is now attracting more attention in the French press and in official circles here. It is practically certain that the French government will support a movement among the powers to put pressure on Roumania in favor of better treatment of the Jews, and it is believed that Germany will take a similar attitude.

While it is thought the United States will thus be successful in stirring the powers into seriously considering the matter, and that remonstrances may be addressed to Roumania, not much hope is expressed in practical and permanent effect within Roumania from such action.

A semi-official agency today circulated the following announcement:

"The French government has not yet replied to Secretry Hay's note. While it is impossible to forecast M. Delcasse's decision, the impression in diplomatic circles is that, while recognizing the high motive which actuated Mr. Hay, M. Delcasse will not entirely agree with the views advanced in the American note."

Jones-Orton.

A pretty society event occurred last evening at the home of W. R. Jones, of Kelley avenue, Wilkinsburg, when their daughter, Jessie Farrell Jones, was united in marriage to Chauncey E. Orton of Wood street, Wilkinsburg, by the Rev. J. W. Miles. The bride was attended by a sister of the groom, Miss Lena Orton, and the best man was a brother of the bride, Edward Jones. The decorations were pink and white. About 100 guests were present. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Orton left for Saratoga Springs. They will be at home to their friends after October 15, in Rebecca avenue, Wilkinsburg.

E. W. Harden's New York Business Letter

STEEL COMBINE STILL LIBERAL TO ITS RIVALS

Has Not Changed Its Policy to Supply Them With Raw Material.

IT WILL MEET ITS OWN NEEDS FIRST

Hocking Increases Its Earnings. Bankers Critisize the Offer of Secretary Shaw Looking to Relief of the Money Situation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 25.—Competent iron trade authorities take very little account of the recent reports alleging that the United States Steel Corporation is seriously disposed to withhold raw supplies, especially ore and coke, from independent rivals.

The United States Steel Corporation has not modified its policy toward independent companies, but is working in perfect harmony with them. It is authoritatively denied that any discrimination has been shown or proposed. It is generally known, or ought to be, that the steel combine has suffered proportionately with its rivals from coke shortage, inadequate transportation facilities and other abnormal embarrassments—for example, strikes.

In order to protect its own interests the combine has restricted supplies of coke to outside companies, but this has been dictated by principles of pure business. It would be unreasonable to expect the United States Steel Corporation to deny itself coke and other raw material from its own sources of supply in order to accommodate independent companies. It is pointed out that the combine has dealt very liberally with the competitors that are dependent upon it for raw supplies. It proposes to continue this policy indefinitely. No drastic measures are contemplated. Raw supplies will be withheld only when they cannot be spared; that is, when the combine itself has need for all it can lay its hands on.

It is reported at various New York headquarters that the Mahoning and Shenango valley furnaces have sold their entire output up to the end of June next year.

Hocking's Increased Earnings.

The report of earnings of the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron Company, published today, is a source of gratification to patient holders of a stock whose market career lately has been invested with a great deal of mystery. This mystery, however, is now in a fair way of being cleared up. The militant interests, it is said, are about to get together on a satisfactory basis. The Ohio courts are now in charge of the dispute involving control of the property. The July earnings, as compared with those of July, 1901, indicate that the company has turned a corner. They are $19,740, an increase of $11,719 over the earnings for the corresponding period of last year.

Bankers Criticize Shaw's Offer.

The news of Secretary Shaw's proposal to anticipate interest payments on the government debt for the period between October 1 and June 30, 1903, caused the stock market to rally somewhat sharply in the afternoon half of todays' session, the uplifting of stocks, however, was upon the sentimental aspects of the proposed relief, rather than upon the practical features thereof.

Banking interests are a bit skeptical about the expediency of it. Secretary Shaw requires a rebate of two-tenths of 1 per cent a month, or the equivalent of 2.4 per cent a year. There is some question whether the relief will be freely accepted on these terms. Supposing that it were, the money, say critical banking authorities, will dribble along for months, whereas what Wall street urgently needs is immediate relief.

New York bankers, in short, are disappointed that Mr. Shaw did not choose to resume the redemption of bonds. That method, in their opinion, would have been more direct and satisfactory. It was believed confidently that the treasury would resume purchasing bonds, and its failure to do so is likely to bring regrets to the enterprising bond dealers that have been corralling government bonds.

The anticipation of interest as proposed by Mr. Shaw, if unanimously accepted, would mean the realizing of $20,350,000 at a profit to the government, by virtue of the rebate, of $220,000.

Remarkable Range of Call Money.

The maximum price for call money today was 22 per cent and the minimum 1 per cent, a very extraordinary range. The higher prices i. e., from 12 to 22 per cent—obtained in the forenoon. After the noon hour the rate began to ease off. Russell Sage lent considerable amounts of money on call at 5 per cent.

It was in the last few minutes of business, however, after everybody was supplied with funds, that the rate was beaten down to 1 per cent. The manoeuver was considered by some of the room sharps to presage a drive against the short interest tomorrow. Friday is ordinarily a day of speculative reckoning. Bulls have to choose between liquidating their stocks or carrying them over to Monday, and the bears have a problem just the reverse of this. Some seem to think that a merry romp with the bears is on the cards for tomorrow. A large short interest certainly exists in the market.

The high rates for call money in the early part of today's session was partly due to the calling of loans incident to subscription payments to the United States Realty syndicate, amounting to about $11,000,000. The money, however, will be only temporarily unavailable. The National City bank today received $1,000,000 gold from abroad.

Russell Sage's Opinion.

Russell Sage today expressed the opinion that the high money rates that have prevailed during the last few days would not be continued for any great length of time.

"I am of the opinion" said Mr. Sage, "that the money situation will right itself within two weeks. By this I do not mean that rates will fall to 3 and 4 per cent. Rates will be firm for some time to come. But there will be no 25 per cent money. The banks will exercise caution until gold to payment for our grain and cotton begins to arrive from Europe in volume. The banks took an unwise course in allowing their loans to expand at a time when they should have been preparing to meet the current demands of the west and south; but it cannot be helped now, and the only way out of the difficulty is a contraction in loans. However, the banks realize that the situation is such that the calling in of loans must be gradual."

Workers Willing to Help Trade.

The announcement that the New Castle lodges of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers had voted upon the proposed 25 per cent reduction in tin workers' wages to allow producers to accept re-export business, was joyfully received by the manufacturers. The action of the New Castle workers, it is believed, will be followed by their co-workers in other sections of the country, which will be followed by a resumption of the many idle mills.

An official of one tin mill is authority for th estatement that the agreement, if generally adopted, means at least six weeks more work for the mills, as manufacturers will be able to book orders for 1,500,000 more boxes of tin. Had the workers refused to accept the reduction this business would have been turned over to European concerns.

The Stock Market Experiences Reaction in Wall Street

RATE FOR MONEY TAKES A TUMBLE FROM HIGH POINT

Actual Loan Contraction and Forced Liquidation Is Much Lighter.

GENERAL LIST SHOWS NET GAINS

Speculators Still Unable to Rebuy Stocks They Were Forced to Dump Overboard—Secretary Shaw's Promise of Relief Helps.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 25.—The stock market reflected decided relief from the process of "putting the screws on" speculative borrowers, which has been in effect this week. Money rates still ruled high, running up to 22 per cent before midday. Prices ran off at that time to a level between 1 and 2 points under last night, but the money rate then relaxed and prices started a slow recovery. It was apparent that no very plentiful supply of funds was available to speculative borrowers for use in rebuying of stocks, but the actual loan contraction and consequent forced liquidation was much lighter. It was reported also that payments on account of the United States realty merger, amounting to over $10,000,000, was released in the stock market, and helped to break the money rate. The general understanding that the secretary of the treasury was to make a statement and offer some additional relief was an argument for the recovery. There was a momentary setback after the publication of the statement, but prices hardened again and the market closed firm but below the best.

Net Gains Were Made.

Net gains are the rule. It cannot be said that the offer of the secretary of the treasury to anticipate the payment of all government interest due up to the end of the present fiscal year gives great hope of relief to the money stringency in Wall street, but the evidence afforded of the secretary's observant care of money market conditions had a reassuring influence upon sentiment. It is recalled that Secretary Gage adopted the same device on October 10, 1900, when the outbreak of the Boer war and the cutting off of the South African gold supply had checked the import movement of gold to New York and Europe's liquidation of our stock exchange then in a condition of over-speculation in newly floated industrial securities.

When Money Was High.

Call loans went to 25 and 40 per cent during the first week of the month and after becoming easier advanced to 25 per cent again at the end of the month. Yet between October 10 and November 1 application has been made at the sub-treasury for payment of only $263,933 of government interest not due until after November 1. During November there was the same lack of result from this offer and it was decided that this expedient for releasing the treasury surplus had failed, although money continued stringent in New York and the reserve of the banks had reached a deficit of $2,788,950 on November 11, in spite of heavy loan contraction. On November 15 the secretary issued a circular offering to purchase $25,000,000 of government bonds. Offers to anticipate government interest have failed to meet with important response in other periods of stringency. Today's immediate developments were that the process of depletion of New York bank reserves was shown to continue.

Some Sub-Treasury Figures.

Yesterdays' deposits at the sub-treasury for telegraphic transfer, the large customs collections and the diminishing pension payments resulted in a loss by the banks to that institution of $1,541,000 for the day, bringing the loss for the week to $2,949,000. Against this is the receipt of the $1,000,000 in gold which arrived on the Majestic yesterday. Today $350,000 was transferred through the sub-treasury to New Orleans, while that institution paid out on account of gold deposited at Paris coast points $420,000. It is evident, however, that the position of the clearing house banks has been so far strengthened by the loan contraction that the necessity of further drastic contraction is over for the present.

Early weakness of bonds gave place to irregularity. Total sales, par value, $4,000,000. United States old 4s advanced ⅛ and the 2s declined ⅛ per cent on the last call.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says: Speculative sentiment in Wall street was much mixed yesterday, but after an early demonstration of weakness, in which liquidation was pronounced, the market steadied and recovered.

The announcement from Washington that Secretary Shaw would anticipate the interest on the government debt up to June 30, 1903, at a small rebate of discount was the controlling influence on the market. When carefully analyzed brokers found that the relief was less important than was first believed to be the case, but the fact that so many influences are now working to relieve the stringency was regarded as a hopeful sign.

London sent a lower range of quotations, but foreigners bought for a turn, taking 40,000 shares on estimated local dealings of 45,000. The purchases were made on the early break and on the midday recovery they sold a few shares. Much of the buying, it was said, represented orders from New York, which were cabled over for the purpose of affecting sentiment.

Atchison was an active feature of the day. The common stock was offered down on the first decline, when it was reported that the western element was liquidating further. The annual report, which will be issued today, advance copies of which were circulated in Wall street yesterday, will show 9.66 earned on the common stock and a reduction of very nearly 2 per cent in operating expenses.

Baltimore & Ohio was a strong feature. The buying was accompanied by reports that former Chairman of the Board Sloan's many of his friends were reclaiming stock sold by them several weeks ago when prices were higher. The reports of foreign buying were again in circulation and were generally credited.

St. Paul ruled strong on repetition of the report that the company was contemplating an additional issue of stock to reimburse the treasury for capital expenditures. Interests identified with the property would neither definitely affirm nor deny the report yesterday. It received some credit in good circles as it afforded an explanation for the persistent strength of the stock.

The Metal Market.

Speculative interests in the way at a standstill today. At London also there was weakness of undertone and a decline recorded of £1 12s 6d, spot closing at £117 and futures at £114 15s. While reflecting no great activity, copper was a shade better on some grades, standard closing at $10 75@11 00; lake at $11 50@11 75; electrolytic at $11 40@11 60, and casting at $11 40@11 55. After the Lower Oil Levels

On Big Knot run, Ritchie county, W. Va., the large producers are heading toward a lower level in their daily production. The last gauge showed the 11 wells are now producing 1,800 barrels a day, distributed as follows: Mallery Bros. & Co., 700 barrels; Three Joes Oil Company, 450 barrels; Drillers Oil Company, 100 barrels; Hall, Browne & Zahniser, 300 barrels, and the South Penn Oil Company 200 barrels a day. Treat & Crawford's test on the Isaac Holland farm is regarded as little more than a failure.

On Wolf Fen run the Cleveland and Parkersburg Oil Company's No. 5 on the Thomas R. Dye farm is flowing at the rate of 300 barrels a day. It is located only 300 feet northeast of the good producer on the Dora Arnett farm, and its size is the most important feature.

In the north end of the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its No. 6 on the W. S. Cunningham farm and the well has made 90 flow. In the lower end of the district the 9 on the Caroline Robinson tract has declined to 450 barrels a day. Nos. 16 and 18 are hooding up at 100 and 125 barrels a day respectively. The same company's Nos. 1 G. Hawkins, No. 4 Rachel Talkington, No. 1 John Talkington, No. 1 Abe Lee and No. 1 Keeper heirs' farm are all holding up at 100 or more barrels a day. Miller Bros.' No. 1 on the E. A. Talkington is producing 125 barrels a day.

On the east side of the development the Hellmer Oil Company and Gressler's No. 1 on the Alva J. Lee farm is producing 240 barrels a day.

On Fallen Timber run J. C. Trees and the Philadelphia Company's No. 1 on the Z. and T. Francis farm is holding up at 110 barrels a day.

Gasser at Blacksville.

West of Blacksville, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the Mary Henderson farm and has a strong gasser in the deep sand. This well and No. 2 a large gasser, have been turned over to the Hope Natural Gas Company.

The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 12 on the R. H. Brown farm, located in the West Bonanza district, in Harrison county, Va., from the Gordon to the Fifth sand and has a show for a 30-barrel producer in the lower formation.

On Yellow Creek, Calhoun county, there is a little new work starting. The last five wells completed in the district were all producers and showed an average production of 53 barrels a day.

Drilling is south of Cairo, Harrison county, at and just across the border, near

Local Stocks Were Less Active and Market's Tone Quite Irregular

THE LEADERS CLOSED WITH SMALL LOSSES

Money Rates Becoming Easier the Traders Picked Up More Confidence.

MORE HIGH RECORDS IN BANKING GROUP.

Coal Shares Lost Fractions—U. S. Steel Common Gained ¼ and Crucible Issues Lost That Much—Electrics Advanced.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was much less active than on the preceding day, but there was a better feeling prevailing. This, however, must not be construed as meaning that there was a decided revival of confidence, or anything like the bullishness that has been so much in evidence recently. While the market was unquestionably steadier than Wednesday, it was still quite irregular, with a nervousness and uncertainty in its undertone that showed it would not take much to seriously disturb its equilibrium. The monetary situation was somewhat easier, and the prospects of some further relief caused the rates in the east, which had opened at 20 per cent and advanced to 22, to close at 6, but it is not believed the relief offered by Secretary Shaw will be much more than temporary. Dropped into the market now $20,000,000 or so is really not much more than a "drop in the bucket." Still, the idea helped yesterday, and if it has not been discounted, may ride over for a while. On the local board less than 5,400 shares were sold, being divided among 21 different securities. Of that number six closed unchanged, 15 advanced firm ¼ to $10, and 12 declined from ¼ to $10. In the banking group two new high records were scored, Peoples National Bank and Pittsburgh Trust, $10 to $255. At the close $256 was bid for the latter. It was in this group that the greatest decline was made, Fidelity Title and Trust selling off $10 to $560; Peoples National bank lost $5 at $475 and Real Estate Trust dropped $3 to $207. Exchange National gained 1½ at 98 and American Trust 1 at 121. The others were unchanged.

In the industrials Pittsburgh Coal common sold 1,000 shares and closed with a loss of ⅛ at 29. The preferred was dull and unchanged at 91¾. River Coal common declined ½ to 12¾ and the preferred was not dealt in. Westinghouse Electric seconds were quite firm and closed at the highest point of the day—110¾—on sales of 610 shares. This was a gain of ½, but afterwards 110¾ was bid. Westinghouse Airbrake also rallied ½ to 181 ex-dividend. Window Glass was rather heavy and on sales of 750 shares declined ⅝ to 60¼. The preferred gained ¼ at 91 and more offered. Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold 27 shares at 143, a drop of $6 between sales, but closed finally at 144 bid. The trading in the steel group was light. Both the Crucibles lost ½ and United States Steel preferred ⅛. United States Steel common, however, closed firmer and ⅛ higher. Fire Proofing issues were quiet and fractionally lower, but Brewing shares were, while quiet, made small gains and were steady. Manufacturers Light and Heat advanced to 80¾, a new high record, but closed at 80¾ for a small lot. This left a gain for the day of ¼. Bonds were dull but steady to firm.

A seat on the New York stock exchange has just sold for $74,000, a new record and $2,000 above the old one. Another seat is wanted at $85,000.

It is estimated that of the $26,000,000 that could be released on the anticipation of government interest about $11,000,000 would be due in New York.

Exchange opened sharply in the morning, getting near to the gold import point. Easier money will bring immediate recovery and check any engagements.

Sproul & Co. were large buyers of Westinghouse Electric seconds. Miller & Co., Hill & Co. and Doty & Sutton also operated. The selling was scattered.

At the annual meeting of the Norfolk & Western at Roanoke, October 9 the purchase of the Scioto Valley & New England will be approved, and the joint issue of bonds will be approved. A vote will also be taken on the purchase and location of several branch roads.

The report that the Secretary of the treasury would anticipate interest to near July had a reassuring effect and brought about a substantial rally. Here terms were called down to 6 per cent, but the interest paid at the opening, but notwithstanding this money was easier in the afternoon and loaned as low as 4 per cent last before the close for small accommodations. To the extent that it will recover depends entirely on how much interest bondholders are willing to take by giving up the discount.

At the adjourned meeting of the members of the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday the members, by an overwhelming vote, decided upon certain conditions to increase the membership in the exchange from 100 to 150 and to purchase the Mechanics National bank building on Fourth avenue between Wood and Market streets, as a permanent home. The resolution submitted by a committee of directors be authorized to buy the property at a price not exceeding $300,000, provided 25 new memberships in the exchange are underwritten. If these memberships are not underwritten the building cannot be purchased and the membership will not be increased. The proposition to increase the membership to 150 met with a fight of opposition, as did an amendment to limit the increase to 125. The question of paying $300,000 for the building was the matter of much controversy. Indeed, the arguments at times became quite warm and somewhat personal. However, all ended amicably. The vote on the resolution to purchase the property was of aces against 6 noes and on the proposed increase in membership, 67 ayes to 9 noes. During the meeting of the master Preston Heath stated that 50 seats were already underwritten and 10 were practically so, while it was believed six individuals wanted that many seats, making 26 of the 50 to be sold. The committee will now go to work at once getting the seats underwritten and everyone seemed confident of success. The present option on the property expires October 1. It can be renewed for a month or a little more time is required if one be obtained.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

Small profits and much returns will be to order. Manhattan, Deposits, Erie and Union Pacific may be bought on all setbacks. Steel preferred will be ex-dividend of 1¾ per cent in a few days, and this stock is cheap. Sugar, Louisville & Nashville and Atchison will be active leaders on big buying. Baltimore & Ohio will be ex-rights tomorrow.—Josephs.

I would not care to buy this market on the rallies. I would rather sell it.

We look for a dull, irregular market. No funds are in sight to start any bull movement on.

Unless money shows a decidedly easier tone I should say today's rally was all that we ought to have.

The secretary's announcement has been discounted. I would sell on the market whenever strong until the money situation is righted.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Live Chickens Bring Higher Figures—Peaches Abundant and Easy.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

While 16 cars of oats were bulletined yesterday as coming, only about one-half the receipts were of good enough grade for sale. No. 2 white and extra are arriving in limited quantities, and holding firm at quotations. Corn comes in but slowly and sellers hold stock steady without concession.

Groceries.

There was a complete absence of special features in the grocery market and no price changes. TWO GLENWOOD DEALS AMOUNT TO OVER $139,000

B. & O. Railroad Buys Thirty Houses and 18 Tenements Are Sold.

THREE PENN AVENUE LOTS BRING $30,000

Duquesne Realty Co. Invests $95,000 in Land—Turtle Creek and Homestead Improvements. A $52,000 Trade.

Two deals, amounting to $139,000 cash, have been closed this week by H. O. Hornberger of Hazelwood. The larger purchase, which was made for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, consists of a block of residence property lying between the B. & O. tracks and Lytle street, and extending from Vespuchis to Allegheny streets, Glenwood. The total frontage on the railroad is about 700 feet, and the width to Lytle street is 250 feet. The consideration was slightly over $110,000. On the property are erected 30 houses, part brick and part frame, which will be razed as soon as the leases expire to make room for tracks and yards. The property is situated just above the Baltimore & Ohio shops at Glenwood, where extensive improvements are now in progress. About four months ago Mr. Hornberger bought for the Baltimore & Ohio 25 houses near this purchase for about $85,000.

Eighteen Tenements Bring $29,000.

The other Glenwood deal, which amounted to $29,000, was the sale of two rows of tenement houses belonging to L. C. Bills. One row was bought by a business man from Hartsdale, Pa., and the other by an East End woman. Eight of the houses occupy a lot 65x120 feet, on the east side of Courtland street, between Blair and Lytle streets, and the other row of 10 dwelling occupies a similar lot on the opposite side of Courtland street. The houses are four and five-room bricks and are good renters.

The demand for such houses at Hazelwood and Glenwood has been greatly increased the past few months by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad purchases, which will oust at least 60 families before winter. Fewer houses have been built than usual in this locality this summer and brokers have practically no such dwellings on their rent lists.

A $30,000 Sale in Penn Avenue.

Through the agency of C. C. Hamilton, Joseph K. Fleming has disposed of three properties in the Twelfth ward for $30,000. They are known as Nos. 2000-2004 Penn avenue, and occupy a lot 48x100 feet at the southeast corner of Penn avenue and Twentieth street, extending back to Spring alley. A three-story brick store building, now occupied by the Iron City Produce Company, stands on the Penn avenue frontage and three two-story brick houses face the alley. The property was bought by M. Shaughnessy, who will hold it for an investment.

This deal is one of several which have been made in the near neighborhood lately, and at the price paid shows that properties in that section are coming into good demand for business purposes. This is the more evident the last six months because of the determination of a number of large produces firms to locate in this part of Penn avenue as soon as their present leases in Liberty avenue expire.

Paid $65,000 for 55 Acres.

The real estate boom up the Monongahela river continues unabated and new land companies are coming to the front every week, with big schemes for improvement. The latest announced is the Duquesne Realty Company, composed of 20 well-known business men, which yesterday completed the purchase of 55 acres surrounding the Carnegie library at Duquesne, for $65,000. The land faces on the south side of East Duquesne avenue, directly opposite the immense mills of the Carnegie Steel Company, and was bought from the Carnegie Land Company. Fifteen brick and frame houses occupy a part of the plot. Most of Duquesne avenue frontage is available for business sites and will be offered for this purpose as soon as the purchasers have settled the land and made the necessary street and sewer improvements.

The company is organized with a paid-up capital of $100,000 and is headed by C. C. Boyd, president of the Homestead Realty Company. This latter concern, the stockholders of which are largely interested in the Duquesne project, bought a large tract of land at Homestead last spring from the Carnegie Land Company and has already sold nearly $1,000,000 worth of its property.

Turtle Creek and Homestead Companies.

Two other realty companies were announced yesterday, one to operate in Turtle Creek and the other in Homestead. The former, for which stock is now being subscribed, will have a capital of $100,000 and has practically concluded the purchase from Mrs. Elizabeth Miller of 65 acres of land in the east end of Turtle Creek borough, extending over the line into Patton township. The company is being promoted by J. W. Johnson, a real estate dealer of Turtle Creek. The land is to be plotted and placed on the market at once and a considerable amount of building is contemplated.

The other company, capitalized at $35,000, has been organized by J. W. Barnes, a real estate broker of Homestead. Its purpose is to build a number of three-story brick apartment houses in Homestead. Mr. Barnes has already built several structures of the kind, and they have proven very profitable investments. Plans for the new buildings will be out soon and the work is to be done this fall.

Exchange Deal of $52,000.

One of the Shickler flats in Mathilda street, near Friendship park, recently bought by J. G. Blaine McAuley from George W. Eberhardt, has been resold for about $30,000. Title to the apartment will be taken by the Shaw heirs, who tender in part payment a block of 3.5 acres of frontage in Mifflinsburg, Penn. Eighteenth ward. The apartment house is one of five built last year; it is a three-story pressed brick building containing 36 rooms. The frontage, which was put into the deal at $22,000, is in a part of the city which is improving very rapidly, a residence way. And well, it may be said, be built up with good houses. The deal is credited to Gault & Giffin.

Two properties, each measuring 24.5x120 feet, situated at the corner of Locust and Miltenberger streets, have been sold for $3,100, each lot to be improved with a brick house. The properties belong to the A. Wilson estate and were purchased by a local merchant, who will use them for business purposes.

Auction Sale Succeeded.

The Safe Deposit and Trust Company yesterday succeeded in selling at orphan's court sale two properties in the Thirty-seventh ward, for $10,850. The purchaser was W. H. Rickenbach, who will hold the lots for an investment. One of the lots, 44.6x140 feet, is situated at the southwest corner of Brighton avenue and Bennett street, and is improved with a two-story frame house. The other lot, 50x140 feet, adjoining the former, one erected on it three two-story frame dwellings, known as Nos. 418, 420 and 422 Brighton avenue.

One of the neatest residences in Edgewood was sold yesterday by Milligan & Miller of Wilkinsburg, to Mrs. Kate A. Sharp, for $10,000. The house stands on a lot facing 40 feet on the south side of Oakview avenue, near Swissvale avenue, and having a depth of 190 feet. It is an 11-room brick residence, handsomely finished, and was built under the personal supervision of the architects and owners.

School House to Cost $65,000.

The new school house in Wilkinsburg, which has been hung up for some time pending the letting of the contract, is to go ahead rapidly now, the contract having been awarded to E. Z. Peffer of Wilkinsburg, for $65,000. The building was designed by Architects Milligan & Miller, and will be erected at the corner of Anderson street and Swissvale avenue, in the First ward. It will contain 15 rooms and in its construction will embody a number of ideas new in Pittsburgh school buildings.

The Duquesne club was yesterday granted a permit for its new building in Sixth avenue, the total cost of which is estimated at $150,000. The buildings were designed by Architects Rutan & Russell. One of them will be a five-story brick building with brownstone front, which will occupy the Sixth avenue frontage between the present club house and the Oliver holdings. This will cost $80,000. The other permit was for a five-story addition, and alterations to the present building, which will be built in the rear, at a cost of $95,000. The work is already started.

Other building permits were granted to John Urban, for four brick storerooms at Beatty and Mignonette streets, Twentieth ward, to cost $5,000; Catherine Altar, a frame house in Haldane street, Twenty-second ward, to cost $5,000, and Emil Spencer, to erect houses at Augusta and Wells street, Thirty-fifth ward, to cost $2,200. George P. Miller was granted a permit for the erection of six two-story brick houses in Luray street, Allegheny, to cost $24,000.

Two New Flats for Homewood.

Architects Milligan & Miller are preparing plans for two apartment houses in Homewood. One will contain 12 and the other eight flats. The two will cost $25,000. The same architects have plans for a brick and frame cottage to be built on Squirrel Hill, at a cost of $4,500, and for a similar cottage for Charles Gilland, in Madelva street, to cost $5,000. They are also taking bids on a colonial brick house in Braddock avenue, to cost $14,000, and have awarded the contract to O. L. Schultz for the J. W. Watt residence, in Wilkinsburg, to cost $4,000.

Architect J. E. Obitz is taking bids on the remodeling of the residence of A. McDonald, in Maple avenue, Edgewood. The improvements will cost $5,000.

Haller & Dibert is the name of a real estate firm which has lately opened offices at No. 118 Sheridan street, East End. "WHITE WINGS" MUST BE LOYAL OR LOSE JOBS

Machine Realizes That Italian Voters Are in Revolt Against It.

M'CANDLESS ORDERS AX TO SWING

After Doing So, Administration Tries to Put the Blame on Larkin—Forty-five Already Discharged, 200 More Slated to Go.

Director J. Guy McCandless has instructed Superintendent John Battles of the bureau of highways and sewers, to get rid of a large number of white wings as far as possible. The object of thus cutting off the men who work on the streets is to save so far as possible the appropriation for the bureau of highways and sewers, which will be short before the middle of December.

In order to shift the responsibility for this cutting down of the pay roll the machine is industriously circulating a report that Controller John B. Larkin would not allow the expenditure of city money for street cleaning purposes during the winter. This statement was most vigorously and emphatically denied by Controller Larkin yesterday. It is branded as a campaign lie, pure and simple.

It is freely asserted in machine circles that the administration is exercising discrimination in the discharge of the "white wings." The Italian voters of the city are in revolt against the administration. Their newspapers are taking an active part in the battle for good government, and the vote in the hill wards, heretofore in favor of the machine, will in the future be cast solidly for the Citizens party.

As a result the Italians employed by the bureau of highways and sewers, who are not machine men, are slated for decapitation, and as soon as the new appropriations are available their places will be filled by men recommended by the ward bosses—if the machine is not wiped out by that time.

A Machine Trick.

The sudden fit of economy is being used as a weapon to force the city employes into line, and to cover its purpose the machine calmly attempts to throw the blame on Controller Larkin, when that official had not even heard of it until yesterday.

Twenty-five Italian white wings were discharged yesterday, and more are to follow. It was stated that 100 are to go today, although a minor official of the bureau denied yesterday that so many would go at once, saying that a few would go at a time until 150 had been cut off.

The work of getting rid of the white wings was begun on Wednesday. Twenty were dropped that day. More were allowed to go yesterday, and the remonstrances of several who dropped into the hall to protest brought the story to the surface. Director McCandless admitted that he had issued orders to his superintendent of highways to drop all that can be spared.

"Have you issued orders for the discharge of any of the white wings?" was the question asked Director McCandless yesterday.

"I have instructed Supt. Battles to drop all that are not needed and can be spared," was the admission of the director.

Controller John B. Larkin served notice on Director McCandless and Supt. Battles that the appropriation for the bureau was running short. He gave the officials figures to show them where they were getting. His sole object was to have them cut out all extravagant bills, and not to buy patrol carts for every man in the department, as they were doing.

Immediately after that talk with the controller it was determined to discharge the white wings thought to be Citizen voters.

This is contrary to the wish of the controller, but it is being done. There are 600 white wings in the employ of the city. It was learned yesterday that it is the intention to cut off 150 of these within the next week and if more can be dropped to let 100 more go as soon as possible. It was intended to let them go in smaller blocks so that the matter could be kept secret, as it would hurt the machine at the polls.

Of those discharged, to the number of about 30 up until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, it was learned that they are all Italians, foreigners who have not been naturalized, or those affiliated with the Citizens party. Italians who are machine voters were allowed to retain their places as their votes will be needed this fall. In cutting off 250 of them care will be exercised that none of those who are loyal to the machine will lose their jobs.

Don't suffer your life to run away when it can be saved by the sure strength given, Dr. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.
